longer a world forum for peace.

For all of this Israel needs every one of us right now. She needs our sentiment, our encouragement, our moral enthusiasm and our financial support. She needs these more than ever before.

Give and give and when you feel you are all through giving, give a little more. If you can't make the Victory Dinner on May 9, send your contribution to Combined Jewish Appeal - Israel Emergency Fund, 953 A-37 E. Sahara, Las Vegas. Use the application coupon in the Israelite for details on your contribution, and be our guest for a free year's subscription to the paper.

LONDON (WNS) A petition urging the Soviet Union to extend to its Jewish nationals the rights accorded to all other minority groups was signed here by 225 professors and teachers at twenty British universities.

BONN(WNS) Belief that efforts are afoot to renew diplomatic ties with the Arab countries was voiced here by informed circles following talks between the West German Minister for Economic Assistance, Hans Jurgen Wischewski, and Hadi El Kabany, a representative of the Arab League. The Arab countries broke diplomatic relations with West Germany two and a half years ago when Bonn established diplomatic relations with Israel.

MIAMI (WNS) The fifteen-year-old Jewish girl, Edith Stern, who has been named as teacher of mathematics at Michigan State University, was born in Brooklyn, N. Y. and her father is a survivor of the Warsaw Ghetto. Her father, Aaron, came to the United States in 1949. Miss Stern, who will be graduated soon from Florida University, has seven college offers. She entered college at the age of thirteen.

NEW YORK (WNS) Foreign Minister Abba Eban of Israel, in an introduction to a book entitled "Israel" by Robert St. Johns, said that one of the significant factors in the current tension in the Middle East is the fact that the Arab mind "has never grasped" the "depth" of the "authenticity of Israel's roots in Middle East life."
