Both men were tried on the same charges in 1965, but one of them, Krumei, was acquitted for lack of evidence. Hunsche was convicted and given a five-year term. On appeal, both the acquittal and the sentence were upset and the men were ordered to stand trial again.

JERUSALEM (WNS) Minister for Religious Affairs Dr. Zorah Warhaftig, in a speech on the floor of Knesset, called on Moslem religious leaders to halt political resistance to Israeli authorities in Jerusalem and the occupied areas. He estimated the restoration cost of the cemetery on Mt. Olives alone at more than $1.7 million.

JEW SUFFER IN ARAB LANDS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (WNS) The situation of Jews in Syria, Iraq, Egypt and in a number of other countries was described here as extremely grave by Yosef Tekoah, Israel's Ambassador to the United Nations, in talks with Secretary-General U Thant.

The meeting was held against the background of a planned special UN mission to study the plight of civilians in the aftermath of last year's war. Israel has made it known it would cooperate with the mission, but it asked that a study be also conducted of the Jewish situation in the Arab countries. So far, the Arab states indicated resistance to the proposal.

According to available information, some 250 Egyptian Jews, all heads of families, are still languishing in the prisons into which they were thrown when war broke out with Israel last year, even though no charges have been filed against them. Egypt now has a total Jewish community of 2,500, about evenly divided between Cairo and Alexandria.

Syria has a Jewish population of about 3,500, some 2,000 living in Damascus, more than 1,000 in Aleppo and the rest in Kamishli. In Kamishli and Aleppo, according to trustworthy sources, the Jews are "on the verge of starvation." The Jews in Syria, apart from being harassed, are not allowed to leave the country and are confined to ghettos "where they are subjected to constant pressure and extortion." In addition they are forced to carry identity cards bearing the mark "Jew" in red. In Damascus a number of Jews have been arrested and the Jewish pedestrians are exposed to attacks, stoning and threats. A Syrian Army circular recently carried a listing of Jewish shops from which army personnel were warned to keep away.

In Iraq, the plight of the Jews is even worse. They are denied civil liberties, freedom of movement and employment and the right to live in their homes without fear of threats from the secret police. In addition, Jewish students have been expelled from universities and schools and Jewish workers have been dismissed from jobs.

Patt was re-elected as president and Herman Quittman as national secretary. The total membership of the organization was reported at 25,000 marking a substantial increase over last year.

NEW YORK -- More than 20,000 Jews have fled from North Africa since last June, it was reported by Samuel L. Haber, Executive Vice-Chairman of the Joint Distribution Committee.
