

JERUSALEM (WNS) The gravity with which Israel views the recent display of belligerence by Eghpt, particularly the flare-up along the Suez Canal demarcation line, is believed to have been the central theme of talks here between Foreign Minister Abba Eban and special UN peace envoy Gunnar V. Jarring.

JERUSALEM (WNS) Since last year, 6,000 new identity cards have been issued to Arabs in East Jerusalem.

New Year Message

By Mrs. Sol Henkind
President National Women's League

As we approach the Jewish New Year 5729 our 200,000 members dedicate themselves to ever-increased efforts to implement our all-embracing program for the perpetuation of traditional Judaism in our modern society, through the home, the Synagogue, and the community.

Never in human history has it been more important that there be total commitment to the ideals of our faith, to the understanding of Jewish values and culture, and to the appreciation of the beauty of our ancient observances. Never has it been more urgent that we exemplify this faith in our own lives and for our children.

We are deeply saddened by the hunger, strife, turmoil and tyranny with which our nation and world continue to be plagued. On this Rosh Hashanah we pray that this year may bring strength to the weak, food to the hungry, dignity and hope to those who despair, harmony and brotherhood among the various races in our land. Throughout the world may we see an end to the tyranny which is rampant and the triumph of peace over the forces of hate, violence and war.

May it be a year in which the blessings of God Almighty will come to all of His children.

TEL AVIV (WNS) Relief at being able to "breathe freely" again was the first reaction of Ida Kaminka as she stepped off the plane which brought her to Israel from Vienna. Accompanying the noted Yiddish actress was her husband and granddaughter. At the airport, she was met by her brother Josef Kaminska, first violinist of the Israel Philhammonic Orchestra.

*Wishing You Prosperity
Happiness and Cheer
Joy in Full Measure
Throughout the Coming Year.*
