The community mourns with the Padratzky family on the loss of their son Raymond, who lost his life when the plane he was piloting crashed in the Desert.

Rose Altman, sister of Margie Herzog, visiting and being entertained by all of Margie's many friends.

Now that the excitement of the election is all over, we suggest you plan a lie-surely dinner at Bombaro's, where you can get an out-of-this world Italian dinner at a reasonable price. To get there go East on Charleston, all the way to the mountain, about ten minutes drive from L. V. Blvd. So, you'll love it and you'll thank me.

My publisher J. T. got a most practical gift from comic Henny Youngman, king of the one-timers. "It was a solid gold ruler, 13 inches long. It says, "Everyone can use an extra inch." He's a great guy. Wish he were back appearing on the strip.

Aside to Nat Hart: some long time friend of yours, out of town, saw your name in this widely read column, sent me a letter asking for your address, call me for further information. He is overjoyed at finding you.

The Little Church of the West was the lovely setting for the marriage of Wennie Mazzotti and George Wilcox, both of Manhattan, Nw York. The marriage was performed on Thursday, November 7th. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. William Sand of Las Vegas.

The Sisterhood fashion show was a knock out and it was such fun that all the guests gave the entire committee a standing ovation. Naturally, it was a sell out. The place, Circus Circus, brand new, very exciting and a natural setting for the theme "Under the Big Top". The gals were dressed most casual, so that there wasn't any competition with the fashions shown. The Tropicana Hotel Dress Shop, Fred Glusman, was responsible for the fashions, furs by La Menagerie through the courtesy of Nathan Haber, who donated a vdry luxurious Mink capelet. The entertainment was the most (money wise, thousands of dollars worth, for the admission price of $5.00- for this we have to thank the President of Circus Circus and his charming wife, (Chairman of the affair), Mr. &

TRUTH ON ABORTIONS

"The Truth About Abortion" will be the subject of a one-day seminar sponsored by the Nevada Committee for the Rights of Women at the Sahara Hotel on Nov. 16, it was announced today.

Mrs. Leola Armstrong, executive director of the NCRW, said the conference will include participants from the fields of medicine, law and the clergy.

"The seminar is designed to educate the people of Southern Nevada on present laws governing therapeutic abortion, and the psychological and emotional aspects as well as the legal and medical," Mrs. Armstrong said.

Advance reservations, especially for those who will attend the luncheon session, can be made now by calling the NCRW office, 735-9163, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., she said.

Mrs. Jay (Joyce) Sarno, with special thanks to Alexander Dobritch, David Johnson, JOE Peterson, and Jerry Schafer. Also, the Maitre'd Tommy Volk, for the help in seating the oversold crowd. The hair do's of all the models was created for them by Mr. Charles and Mr. Glynn of the Tropicana Beauty Shop. The models were members of Sisterhood: Betty Brandwynne, Elaine Galatz, Mary Goldwater, Arlene Mack, Marilyn Resnick (winner of the one week vacation for two, to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico) Charlene Rubin, Ronnie Shapiro, and Joan Van.
