

Barney Glazer's 'HOLLYWOOD HOTLINE'

Glazed Bits or what happens when a reporter's yarn unravels.

Transformed biologically and medically to a woman, Gordon Langley Hall, actress Dame Margaret Rutherford's adopted son, is now Dawn Pepita Langley Hall. How many times have you heard of an adopted son becoming an adapted daughter?

At the first sign of the Hong Kong flu, take one aspirin in two jiggers of bourbon every half hour and notice how much better you will feel.

Those Nielsen ratings are real crazy man. One week, a television show is underneath the pile and the next week it's overneath.

A college grad from Philadelphia wrote me, "Now that I have my A. B., I'm sure I'll be in demand as a studio executive if I come to Hollywood." When you arrive, young man, let's sit down and I'll teach you the rest of the alphabet.

Both Eddie Fisher and author Harold Robbins are looking for something new in a girl to star in their respective film features. Show me something new in a girl and I'll show you a boy.

A television announcer on a late panel show tripped over his tongue and said, "This television set comes with one full year of service-free trouble." Sounds like the set I bought.

Actor Ron Soble's wife took up golf and first time out got a birdie. Poor little thing was a blue jay.

Good thing that George Wallace wasn't elected. First thing he would have done: he would have can-celebrated "Julia."

When Lee Marvin appeared at the Coconut Grove wearing long white hair with matching beard, the monkeys in the palms screeched, "Hey mom, what's pop doing down ther?"

Shani Wallis and agent Bernie Rich have been married five months. And they said it would never last.

Had a funny dream. Richard Burton, Liz Taylor and Eddie Fisher were invited to the same party. Burton asked Fisher, "Have you seen my wife?" and Fisher replied, "What does she look like?"

Most divorces are caused by couples disagreeing over which tv show to watch and here you thought that bucket seats were keeping couples apart.

A woman called a theatre showing "Gone With the Wind" and asked, "Is Clark Gable still in it?"

People are still talking about the young man who telecast that pornographic film in Palm Springs a few months ago. A local married couple caught the show and the husband said, "Turn that off. We saw it last week at the Strand."

Well, I see the networks are canceling shows and bringing in replacements again. They keep cutting away weeds and exposing old beer cans.

Overlooked Halloween item: A bird hitched a ride on Phyllis Diller's broomstick. That's hitchcraft.

Classified ad: Girl with open mind wants man who can rapid read. Object: a lifetime in 24 hours.

So few celebrities turned up at a movie premiere, the photographers were taking pictures of one another.

Mister, how many times did you act the part of the perfect gentleman while driving and smile graciously at the beautiful girl who cut in front of you without signalling, only to realize it was a boy?

Two little girls were playing hopscotch on Hollywood's sidewalk stars. So that's what they're for!

The heroes get all the cheers and the villains get all the boos but let's give our "heavies" the credit they deserve. It takes a bad man in front of the camera to make a good man look good.

I told my wife, "The Michael Landons are sure lucky. They have five children." My wife loaded the washing machine and said, "I'm luckier. I have only two."

A visitor to Hollywood returned to Boston and said he especially loved Anaheim because it was so convenient to downtown Acapulco.

One of our town's television producers has been receiving critical fan mail about his latest flop. He doesn't mind being criticized but he hates being called "stupid" by anyone he isn't married to.

Is it hard to become a star in Hollywood? No harder than buying bananas without paying for the skins or stealing second base without taking your foot off first.

Everyone says that television will replace the newspaper but I've yet to see anyone carrying a set over his head while it's raining.

Practically everything on television is for the eye, very little for the brain. The next generation will have eyes as big as watermelons and brains as big as peas.

I wonder if musician Neil Diamond leaves a Diamond ring around his tub.

Let the rioters say what they want but the United States is still the greatest country in this nation.

The special effects department of a major movie studio has crossed a kangaroo with a horse. It's great for western actors who like to ride inside during a rainy sequence.

It was so cold at the Presidential inaugural that the Democrats were applauding to keep warm and Huntley was wearing Brinkley.

We had a terrible scandal in Hollywood this week. A fellow was caught red-handed eating his television dinner in front of his radio.

Travelers are getting the feeling that no matter where they fly today their destination is always Cuba... Florida stewardesses now say, "Fasten your gunbelts, please."

The cast and crew of a network series gave their leading man a surprise birthday party. He had a birthday he won't forget and a party he can't remember.

If actresses Barbara Minikus and Joanna Shimkus ever appear in the same movie, that should prove the funniest billing of them all, "Barbara and Joanna."

A boy and a girl sat in a movie doing nothing. She must have said, "Nothing doing."

A filmstar didn't say one word to his wife for three weeks following an argument but they're on speaking terms again. He's doing the listening.

Have you noticed that every time the ruler of a foreign country comes across, we do, too?
