PAY POLICE DECENT WAGE

On May 6th residents of the City of Las Vegas will be asked to vote "Yes" on a very important question placed on the ballot by officers of the Las Vegas City Police Department.

You are being asked to give our officers a much needed and well deserved pay raise.

Everyday and night of the year an officer lays his life on the line for $16.25 a day-- if he's a man with less than two years on the force. A little more if he's been with the department longer!

This is not even close to the national average.

To earn the gross sum of $578.00 a month, he had to pass stringent requirements and go through a tough training program. Before he takes the first ride or walk, an officer must complete six weeks of the toughest training for a job anywhere. He must not only be in perfect physical condition, but he must possess the knowledge of law that attorneys' study years to learn!

And for what? $16.25 a day!

He is at your service 24 hours a day. Whenever you need help, you call him. To find a lost child or catch a burglar. He'll rush a sick person to the hospital or straighten out an accident. There are thousands of incidents and requests made of an officer and he must be able to handle every situation that may arise.

He doesn't mind the long hours or the danger. But he does mind the low salary.

Most policemen -- whether rookie patrolmen or 30-year veterans -- have a tough time making ends meet. Wives of officers usually have to work. Single policemen think long and hard before getting married. They all have to give up many luxuries, even some necessities.

Right now Las Vegas has a fine police force. But to keep these well-trained and well-qualified men -- and to attract good new men -- we must pay them a decent living wage.

Of the 148 uniformed patrolmen and jail personnel currently on the force, only two men have more than five years of actual police experience. Of this number 84 have been on the force less than a year!

Low pay also makes recruiting new officers very difficult in today's labor market. Such cities as New York, Chicago and Los Angeles have found it hard to fill vacancies -- and they pay an average of $269.50 more a month than Las Vegas does to its rookies.

A policeman earns a good living now, but he's not getting paid for it! Please help. Vote "Yes" on Proposition 1, May 6th.

BUENOS AIRES (WNS) -- The Buenos Aires Jewish community has dedicated a million dollar, 10-story "Education Palace" to house all Jewish educational facilities in the city.

BONN (WNS) -- The West German Government has decided to end the statute of limitations on war crimes prosecutions but the exact nature of the Cabinet's decision will become evident when a bill is introduced and the Parliament acts on the measure.

EXTREMISTS HELP ARABS

WASHINGTON (WNS) -- The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith charged that the El Fatah Arab Terrorist organization was receiving financial, moral and political support from extremist groups in the United States and had had "considerable success in mobilizing extremist support here."

While the bulk of the group's money comes from Arab Governments, El Fatah has been able to raise funds in the U. S. Arnold Foster, ADL general counsel, said it was debatable whether contributions to such a paramilitary force would be a violation of U. S. neutrality laws. "If the Fatah is pretending it is using money to help war-torn areas and hungry kids, you'd have to accept that the donations are legal," he said.

Mr. Foster noted that "although the pro-Fatah Arab groups often assert that they are against Zionists, not the Jewish people," they do not hesitate to seek and accept support from "traditional anti-Semites on the American scene."

The ADL said that since 1968, when El Fatah launched its U.S. activities from headquarters maintained at 801 Second Avenue in New York City, financial, political and propaganda support for the Arab terrorists have come from the 10,000 member Organization of Arab Students, groups of the Communist "old left," New Left radicals and such black extremist groups as the Black Panthers and the Black Muslim movement.

New Left and revolutionary organizations supporting the guerrilla group included the Youth Against War and Fascism, youth arm of the pro-Peking Workers Party, the U. S. Committee to Aid the National Liberation Front, a pro-Viet Cong group, the Committee to Support Middle East Liberation, the pro-Peking Progressive Labor Party, formed by Communist Party dissidents, and the Trotskyite Socialist Workers Party.

Mr. Foster added that there was evidence indicating that the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), strongest of the student New Left groups, was moving toward "acceptance of old-line anti-Zionist Arab propaganda, overlaid with support for the Third World versus colonialism line of Arab revolutionaries -- and toward a pro-El Fatah position."

He explained that far left elements "view Israel and the Western 'imperialist' countries, especially the U. S., as forces opposing the efforts of the 'Third World' peoples in Africa, Asia and Latin America to defeat cent, though opposed in principle, would do little or nothing to combat such discrimination. Only 26 percent firmly opposed it.

Five percent said they would vote for an anti-Semitic candidate but over one-third indicated that a candidate's anti-Semitism would make no difference to them, according to the survey.

While younger members of the white population were less anti-Semitic than the old, the reverse was true among Negroes where negative opinions of the Jews were more prevalent among the young than the old. Negative beliefs about Jews was particularly strong among Negroes in the economic sphere. For every 100 whites who said Jews used shady business practices, 145 Negroes said the same; for every 100 whites who said Jews were not as honest as other businessmen, 129 Negroes said the same.

But 91 percent of the Negroes were against anti-Jewish employment practices; and 68 percent--as compared to 51 percent of the whites -- were not opposed to the nomination of a Jew for president.

ISRAELITE ADS PAY

NEW YORK (WNS) -- The YIVO Institute of Jewish Research will hold its 43 annual conference May 4-7 in New York.

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- The Jewish National Fund, which is marking the 50th anniversary of its afforestation program, will plant its one-hundred-millionth tree in Israel this year.

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- The Jewish Agency will initiate several new projects in the Kfar Etzion complex of Orthodox Jewish settlements southwest of Jerusalem which were captured by the Arab Legion in bitter fighting preceding the Liberation War. The area was retaken during the Six-Day War and resettled by children of the original settlers, most of whom were massacred by the Arabs in 1948. The projects include a metal-working plant and a restaurant to serve tourists.
