

Barney Glazer's 'HOLLYWOOD HOTLINE'

Now it can be told -- When Martha Ray fell apart in her dressing room while waiting to accept her special Oscar, Bob Hope rushed in and composed her -- One year ago, while standing in the unemployment insurance line, Jack Albertson told a fellow traveler, "If something doesn't break soon, I'm getting out of this business." Something did break: an Oscar -- Elizabeth Taylor promised to join Clint Eastwood in "Two Mules for Sister Sara" but procrastinated so much the role went instead to Shirley MacLaine -- Lynn Carlin waited through four years and two babies for John Cassavetes to release "Faces" -- Paramount tried but failed to film the Newark portion of "Goodbye, Columbus" due to ear-shattering plane noise in that city.

Gossip: John Wayne and Rock Hudson aren't talking during "The Undefeated" location shooting. The truth: They're friendly and show total respect for each other.

Birthdays -- Barbra Streisand turned 27 -- Hugh O'Brien took over where Jack Benny left off at 39 -- Zsa Zsa Gabor looks more like 36 than 46 -- Cary Grant would win hands down in a contest for Mr. Sex Appeal at 55 -- Gloria Swanson has to be Miss Septuagenarian of 1969.

Blasts at members of the film industry who failed to show up at Kathryn Grayson's and Howard Keel's Coconut Grove opening, proving that those who stop making Hollywood headlines stop making friends.

Boosts for Antelope Valley citizens who on May 25 will dedicate and name 400 acres the Gabby Hayes Community Park in the Lovejoy Buttes movie location area where Gabby frequently worked.

ger Steve Almont -- Fay Dunaway went this-away and that - a - way with Marcello Mastroianni in London - Rock Hudson and Rita Hayworth made head - to - headlines -- Raymond St. Jacques and Janet MacLachlan played a breakup-make-up game.

Casting curios -- For "Airport," Ross Hunter cast Leslie Summers, who panics in planes, as a registered nurse who calms the nerves of frightened passengers -- Black comedian - actor Godfrey Cambridge will portray a white man in his next Columbia movie, with white make-up.

Capsule Reviews -- To those who seek their excitement in films and ask "Where's it at?" it isn't in "Where It's At" -- "A Boy....A Girl" stinks (at least it did here at the new Westwood Theatre where someone dropped a stench-bomb.)

Marred marriages -- Ruth and Keir Dullea found life together dull -- Steve Parker and Shirley MacLaine claim a happy marriage but do tv newsman Sandy Vanocur and Shirley fraternize to discuss headlines?

This week's eternal triangle involves -- Mia Farrow, Dore Previn and Andre Previn -- also, Sidney Poitier, Peggy Lipton and Sammy Davis Jr.

Send get-well cards to -- Samantha Eggar, stricken with a kidney infection during production of "The Walking Stick" -- to James Franciscus, hobbling on crutches following a tennis twist -- to Glynnis Johns, resting after suffering a brain concussion in an ice skating tumble -- to John Wayne, recovering from his second accident on "The Undefeated" and beginning to think he's a born loser -- and to Mrs. Jack (Vickie) Oakie convalescing after a hospital bout with a violent virus.

position as deputy DA to George Franklin to establish his qualifications for the office he seeks.

"When you also consider my experience in private practice and in military law, it covers all facets of law necessary to assume the duties of the City Attorney's office. With all due respect to the other candidates, the total picture presented by my experience cannot be matched by them."

Guy called attention to the situation concerning city ordinances and 'explained that ordinances have to be reviewed and updated if we are to avoid the confusion which presently exists in all quarters with regards to laws which are vague, outdated, not in line with the county and other cities, and some ordinances which are just not practical or enforceable.

"The proper action to take is to have each department in our city government examine those ordinances relating to their respective operations and forward their report to the city attorney for further study and recommendations for action, to the city council. This is a responsibility of the city attorney's office and one which, up to now, has been sadly neglected.
