

Barney Glazer's 'HOLLYWOOD HOTLINE'

Dean Goodhill will marry Judy (Sock It To Me) Carne, who denied she'll convert to Judaism . . . Bill Dana, real name Bill Szarthmary, said this week, "People may wonder why somebody with a perfectly good name like Szarthmary would want to change it. These people would be looked into!" Len Goldberg resigned his position as Vice President in Charge of Programming for the ABC-TV network and succeeded Jackie Cooper as Vice President in Charge of Production at Screen Gems. I've mentioned Len in this column frequently. He's going steady with Marlo Thomas, Danny's sprig.

MARTIN STARGER, who worked with Len for three years, replaced him at ABC. Jackie Cooper, like Mike Frankovich who quit as Columbia Pictures topper, will go into independent film production.

Lainie Kazan intended to become a famous dancer but one day she sang a chorus of "Yiddisha Mama" that threw a hush over the guests at a party. Even Lainie was dumfounded by the reaction. Carol Haney, who was present, told her to forget the dancing bit and concentrate on the vocals, which Lainie did.

Alexander Hakoheh (that's a new way to spell Cohen), Tel Aviv studio chief, will make "The Fuse," Howard Koch's screenplay, in Jerusalem. Should someone tell Alex that the fuse is lit? . . .

"Before Winter" has been released by Columbia; so if you want to know why all the excitement about Topol, the Israeli actor, see him in this movie. Watch him steal the film from David Niven and then understand why he won the coveted role of Tevya in the upcoming movie, "Fiddler on the Roof," which sent Theodore Bikel, Zero Mostel, Hershel Bernardi and Luther Adler to the Wailing Wall.

TALKING ABOUT the aforementioned Bill Szarthmary, there's an Albert Szarthmary in the movie, "They Shoot Horses Don't They?" but to prove it's not just a coincidence, he's Bill Dana's brother and he keeps shouting loud and clear, "If my name is good enough for my parents, it's good enough for me."

Isaac Bashevis Singer's fairy tale, "Mazel and Schlimazel" will become an animated musical movie. A Newberry Book Medal Award winner, Singer created the characters, who (in the event you don't understand the Yiddish title) mean the spirits of good luck and bad luck.

At Toni and Jan Murray's seder in Beverly Hills, Sid Caesar arrived late while Jan was in the middle of the service. Later, Jan asked, "What happened to you?" Said Sid, "I was in New York. I couldn't get a plane to L.A. so I hijacked one going to Cuba." Jack Carter and Milton Berle also attended as did Candy and Hal Marchand Mr. and Mrs. Red Buttons. Also there, Ginnie and Bob Newhart found Jan's shorter service a new experience . . . The previous night, for the first seder, the Newharts were guests of Barbara and Don Rickles. "Don does the long orthodox service," said Newhart, "but we really enjoyed it."

HAVE YOU caught the movie, "Who Killed Teddy Bear?" on tv recently? It stars Jan Murray and Juliet Prowse. In the film, Jan is a widower with a 9-year-old daughter, played by Diane Moore. Her real name is Diane Murray. Yup, the daughter of Toni and Jan Murray. Diane will be 15 May 24. It was her first role and after the shooting schedule she retired. Incidentally, she did a remarkable job in her debut and finale.

Warm weather is approaching and we would like to advise you that your precious Furs need attention.

We operate a fully complete workshop and this means that Your Furs no longer have to be sent out of town for expert attention.

Cleaning, Glazing, storing and insect protection is done on our premises.

Master Fur repairs and remodeling are done right here.

You save money because we charge local people less than the wholesale prices charged fur shops in hotels and department stores.

Our on premises in-and-out Cold Storage is only $4.95 per year for each garment.
