MIDEAST"WAR" UP

fighting between Israel and the Arab Nations in the current state of "no war, no peace" has intensified to the point where Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan said "if the situation continues, I will not hesitate to ask the Government to call in the reserves for biannual service in order to fill security requirements and for training in preparation for the possibility of a new war."

The Terrorists, taking a page from the Israeli book on commando tactics, staged their most daring raid since the Six-Day War by blowing up a 12-inch oil pipeline in the port of Haifa. The blast, about 8 a.m., set other pipes afire and the resulting blaze burned for five hours until firemen from Haifa and other localities controlled it with foam and other means. About 1,000 tons of oil valued at $55,000 was lost. The pipes transported oil to a fuel jetty in Haifa port five miles away where it was used for bunkering ship calling at the port. Neither domestic or export supplies were affect-

The Haifa refineries, center of Israel's growing petro-chemical industry, is one of the most heavily guarded areas in the country. The psychological impact of the act has left the nation wondering how the Arab commandos penetrated the ara to carry ut their raid.

In Cairo and Beirut, El Fatah spokesmen claimed credit for the mission while in Amman the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine asserted its commandos did the job.

Observers noted it was the first time that the Arab terrorists had struck at a major economic target rather than at facilities in which civilians could be killed or wounded. Israel has had a policy of striking economic targets in response to terrorist attacks and her actions have hurt the Egyptian and Jordanian economy. Observers said israel could also be injured economically if the Arabs were able to continue to successfully hit industrial facilities.

Jordanian offficials said they were speeding reapirs on the $85 million East Ghor Canal, Israel's most recent Jordan. It served an estimated 60,000 Jordanians.

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- The support attacks on settlements bordering on the Jordan River. Israeli aircraft are now reported to be making almost daily strikes inside Jordan against terrorist and regular Jordanian army posts that shell Israeli settlements and army patrols.

Government officials have warned that even harder your life, and we'll talk it strikes would follow if intensified Arab military activity along the cease-fire line continued.

On the Suez Canal front, Israel reported downing three Egyptian jets during the week in two air battles over the Gulf of Suez. The Russian-made Migs fell into Egyptian territory. All Israeli jets were reported to have returned safely. Egypt claimed downing one Israeli plane and "hits" on two others during these engagements. Jerusalem reports that Cairc has now lost 21 jets since the end of the Six-Day War.
