Relegation of the role on UN Mideast peace envoy Gunner V. Jarring to assisting in defining the extent of the demilitarized zone. The U. S. hadS. had viewed his mission as a key element in peace efforts.

The Russian proposals made no reference to any direct negotiations between Israel and the Arab states. It also rejected an American proposal that would have allowed Israel to retain the Golan Heights and East Jerusalem.

(In London, Communist diplomatic sources confirmed that the new Russian note reflects a hardened Soviet-Arab line on the Mideast. Its key feature was Moscow's rejection of any Arab territorial concessions and total Israeli withdrawal to the pre Six-Day War lines. Israel's gain under the Moscow plan would be Arab recognition, free navigation through the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba and a Four Power guarantee protecting all Mideast nations).

NEW YORK...To help provide materials that will increase understanding and knowledge of Jewish history, tradition, religion, and customs, the American Jewish Committee has issued a 28-page booklet, "On Jews and Judaism - A Selected Annotated List of Films and Filmstrips," prepared by Chayym Zeldis, an authority on teaching aids for children and adults. Copies of the booklet, at 35 cents each, may be obtained from the Publications Service, American Jewish Committee, 165 East 56th Street, New York, N. Y. 10022.

The Nixon Administration has indicated that it considers enough progress has been made in past talks with the Russians so that these efforts would be continued even if an impasse has now developed.

Officials have reportedly found signs of some changes in position and flexibility in the Soviet reply despite its overall hard line. It is believed that these may be bargaining areas that Mr. Gromyko won from President Nasser. It therefore wants to explore these lines further and will not end the bilateral talks.

Washington is also reportedly fighting a Russian suggestion that the site of the talks be shifted to Moscow. It has indicated a willingness to hold a "wound" in the Soviet capital. Pressure from Jerusalem was behind the American stand. Israel has argued that a change would be read as a concession to the Arabs.

Meanwhile Cairo radiode-nounced President Nixon for inviting Premier Meir to Washington. It charged that the Nixon Administration was "clearly Zionist" in its Mideast policy.
