

ISRAELIS KILLED

by flames. The defenders shot wildly in all directions and fired anti-aircraft guns, presumably believing they were under air attack.

(Cairo radio raid said a single Israeli aircraft harmlessly dropped some bombs on the Manqubad base but was driven off by anti-aircraft fire. No mention was made of a commando raid.)

The six Israelis killed last week included the following:

One soldier by a mine near the Damiya Bridge in the Jordan Valley while three others along the Suez Canal, one during an exchange of gunfire while the others in mine explosions. Two other soldiers were killed north of the Dead Sea when their vehicle hit a mine.

During the same period about two dozen Arab terrorists were killed by Israeli security forces in the occupied territories and on the Golan Heights.

Israeli jets twice hit guerrilla bases in Jordan during the week. The first raid followed an Arab attack on an Israeli patrol near the Damiya Bridge while the second air strike came after a civilian truck on the road to Eilat was shelled.

Arab terrorists also fired three rockets at Jerusalem, the first such attacks on the holy city since the end of the Six-Day War. The rockets landed in empty areas and caused little damage.

Security forces searching for the launchers found a battery of 16 Russian and Egyptian-made weapons in the mountainous terrain between Jerusalem and Bethlehem.
