Must start this off with what all the owners of Reducing Salons say "We live off the fat of the land."

I'm envious of that Dean Martin. The way the women (mine also) flip for this guy is beyond my belief. So, he's handsome, can sing, can tell an old joke in his inimitable way. So what else can he do? We must admit he is truly great because even the guys like him. I don't know where he lives but if Dean would make the Riviera his residence, there is no reason why the state of California should have a Governor, a Senator and a member of the united Nations from show-biz when actually Las Vegas is the Entertainment Capitol of the world and we should make Dean Martin our next governor, or senator to represent Show Biz Town.

Nuncie Price, my ever-loving Topless at the Hacienda, claims that 90% of people are caused by accidents, Nuncie better come up with a better story next week.

Smarty Marty Kane is extremely honest, he says: "If I spoke my mind I'd have nothing to say."

Just ran into Sarah and Ed Rubin. They look great. Ed has a perverted sense of humor. He tells me of a lady who was watching her house burn down. Her husband picked her up in his arms and broke through the firemen and put her back in her bedroom. Sarah claims that's true hate.

The entertainment in the Flamingo Casino theatre is great. Our special favorite is Johnny Ricco part of the incomparable Characters. I remember first hearing his beautiful voice in Atlantic City at the Bamboo Club. His uncles, Fred and Casey Arguello, still keep in touch with me. They are nice people.

Sol Wolf just gave me a tip on a stock called Susquehanna Corp. Pfd. He claims it will go back to 80 from the 16 it is now. I hope he is right because I bought it. (P.S. If it goes down Sol better leave town.)

Starting to-night the sweet sounds of Guy Lombardo will be back in the Blue Room of the Tropicana. If you love to dance, meet us dance lovers after midnight when they clear the center of the room for fun dancing with your partner or mine.

That Victor Silvagni really throws a beautiful party. His Adorable Ann was surprised to see 36 people at the Italian American Club to sing Happy Birthday and eat and drink to their hearts content. The music was excellent and we all enjoyed dancing. Miriam was home sick so Nick Kelly and I were the only bachelors.

My young spy Johnny selinsky just reported about the DOORS at the Ice Palace. His raves about this show that Mike Tell brought to town for the pleasure of our young people proves that Mike is a real impressario and that he knows what the young folks love. Johnny also advises that the local group Wolf Ticket were better than he or his friends expected. He asks when is the next way out group coming to town. With the large crowds
