

U.S. & RUSSIAN A.A.U. BOXING CHAMPS MATCHED AT CAESARS

When America's finest amateur boxers face their Soviet Union counterparts in a historic first dual match at Caesars Palace here on Saturday, October 25, it may well be an internationally-televised (ABC-TV) preview of one or more future professional champions.

Most of the 22 young boxers who will participate in the Las Vegas bouts are pointing for Olympic titles in 1972 and international Olympic - style fighting has produced world titleholders in almost every pro division - predominately for the United States.

Six Olympic champions, four of them Americans, have attained the ultimate goal as professional pugilists.

They are Frankie Genaro (U.S.), flyweight, 1920, Antwerp, Belgium; Jackie Fields (U.S.), featherweight, 1924, Paris, France; Fidel LaBarba (U.S.), Flyweight, 1924, Paris; Pascual Perez (Argentina), flyweight, 1948, London, England; Floyd Patterson (U.S.) middleweight, 1952, Helsinki, Finland; Cassius Clay (U.S.) light-heavyweight, 1960, Rome, Italy, and Nino Benvenuti (Italy), welterweight, 1960, Rome.

Genaro, LaBarba and Perez all won world pro titles as flyweights. Fields captured the welterweight crown twice and Patterson duplicated Jackie's feat as a heavyweight. Clay, who changed his name to Muhammad Ali, moved up to the heavyweight throne. Benvenuti is the current middleweight king.

Still another Olympic champion, America's Joe Frazier, is presently recognized as the world heavyweight ruler in seven states and a few minor foreign jurisdictions.

It may also be recalled that Sweden's Ingemar Johanson, who was disqualified in the heavyweight final of the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki, won and lost the pro heavyweight crown in title fights with Patterson.

AJC STUDY PROBES FRENCH LIT.

Completion of the most intensive, wide-ranging study ever yet undertaken of how current Catholic French - language educational literature portrays Jews and Judaism was announced by Philip E. Hoffman, president of the American Jewish Committee, and, jointly, by the Catholic University of Louvain in Belgium.

The three year investigation -- which probed in detail a 79-volume, 8 million-word representative sampling of Catholic texts most widely used in religious teaching in France, Belgium, French - speaking Canada, and French - speaking Switzerland -- was carried out by the Socio-Religious Research Center at Louvain University, directed by Canon Francois Houtart, and by the Catechetical Research Center headed by Canon Jean Gible. Louvain University and the American Jewish Committee co-sponsored the study.

BUENOS AIRES (WNS) -- Argentine Jews have protested to the Government over the anti-Israel tour of the Syrian Ambassador who visited several cities with large Arab populations.

PHILADELPHIS (WNS) -- Rev. Leonard Smalls, the regional director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference has issued a statement on behalf of the Black organization founded by the late Rev. Martin Luther King deploring persecution of the Jews in the Arab states and condemning it as "morally despicable."

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Despite Arab terrorist efforts to cut-off normal contact between Israel and its Arab neighbors, authorities reported that 20,000 Arabs from abroad -- 4,000 more than last year -- visited relatives in Israel during 1969's summer visitation program.
