COMMISSIONER JAMES J.

The design submitted for a War Dead Memorial, which includes the statue of Jesus Christ, is not acceptable, and the group that proposed the design will be so advised, the Las Vegas Israelite was exclusively informed as we were going to press.

According to City Commissioner Wes Howery, chairman of the Convention Authority, which agreed to give the space for the shrine, the Motion to Approve was very clear: "Convention Authority has right to approve the design."

Howery added: "If not agreeable to all Faiths, the design would not be approved." He concluded with: "I will get back to the group and advise them the design submitted will not be acceptable."

City Commissioner James J. Corey, also a member of the Convention Authority, stated the original idea submitted by the Jr. Chamber of Commerce, showing a large eagle with outspread wings, was the design he would approve. Corey said the idea for a Peace Memorial was unanimously accepted, but the final design would have to be approved by the Authority.

Commissioner Corey said he specifically made it a point: "The final designation would be made after all

TELL TALES

"One Man Plus The Truth Constitutes A Majority"

BY JACK TELL

We Love You Ruthe, But

There is no greater favorite of this column, in Las Vegas or any other area of our background, than Ruth Deskin.

As secretary to publisher of a daily newspaper she was ever present to lend a sympathetic ear to our or any other co-worker's tale of woe, her demeanor, carriage and air of forthright honesty are beacons of hope in this topsy-turvy world of incommunication and unrest, her once-a-week column is refreshing, to the point, and so, so productive. She's a newspaperman's newspaper woman.

But the affection we have for Ruthe, like an affection we once had for dear departed parents and still do for wonderful sisters, darling daughters-in-law and a loving wife was never one bit diminished when we found cause for disagreement. It has been said, you only hurt the ones you love, a principle we have been subscribing to, we regret to admit, for most of our mature life. Here we go again.

First we reprint the opening items in her column this week.

MEMO TO HANK: They call it - doing your own thing. That's the law of the land these days, but some of the believers in this theme for living want it to apply to themselves and not to others.

This is particularly true among those who are intent on breaking down old traditions and using such tired and true expressions for doing so as "freedom of speech - freedom of religion - and freedom of choice."

My reference is to the militant program headed by Madalyn Murray O'Hara to obtain letters protesting the reading of the Bible by our astronauts in space. She has demanded public censorship of the astronauts and assurance that NASA will prohibit further expressions of faith on their part.

I join with the Las Vegas Jaycees who adopted a resolution recently that the astronauts too have the right

NEW MIDDLE EAST TACTICS

TEL AVIV (WNS)--Fighting in the Middle East has settled into new patterns of Israeli air attacks on Arab positions while terrorist groups carry out mainly unsuccessful incursion into Israel.

The new pattern also involved continued Egyptian claims of tremendous successes in ground attacks against Israeli forces. In the latest example Israeli spokesmen labelled as "fantasy" Egyptian claims that a commando unit had crossed the Suez Canal in the Port Suez area, took a heavy toll of Israeli lives and caused severe damage to military positions and then returned without any casualties. Israeli said it knew nothing of a raid, damages or losses.

Guerrilla raids from the Jordan also continued to meet with little success as border patrol intercept most terrorist groups. In fact, military spokesmen said that last week was one of the quietest in recent weeks.

Meanwhile in the air Israeli jets continue to hit Egyptian targets along the canal and Gulf of Suez in an almost daily pattern. Terrorist bases in Jordan also come in for attacks. In all incidents no Israeli losses were reported.
