DON ADAMS AT THE SANDS

Television super sleuth Don Adams stars in the new Sands Show for a special 1-week engagement, during the second annual Hughes Golf Invitational tournament.

The new show set by producer Jack Entratter will co-star record veteran Mel Torme, who has extended his singing into script-writing and acting. This year, he wrote and starred in his first teleplay, an hour-long "Run For Your Life" titled "The Frozen Image." He has since written and performed in an episode of "The Virginian," based on his original novel, "The Handy Man."

FIELDS WILL ADVISE U.S. BOXERS VS RUSSIA AT CAESARS SAT.

Jackie Fields, one of America's greatest Olympic and world professional boxing champions, today was named advisor to the United States national team that will meet a rugged Soviet Union squad in a dual match at Caesars Palace here on Saturday, October 25.

Fields, 62 and constantly in touch with boxing since his retirement from the ring in 1933, will assist head coach Robert (Pappy) Gault, Piney Point, Md., who directed the 1968 U. S. Olympic team at Mexico City.

Now a Nevada State Athletic Commissioner and Hotel Tropicana executive here, the Chicago-born Fields was himself head coach of the American boxing team in the 1964 Maccabian Games at Tel Aviv, Israel.

"I'm glad to have Jackie with us," said Gault. "I've always had great respect for him as a fighter and a man."

A featherweight in his early days, Fields won 51 of 54 starts as an amateur coming up to the 1924 Olympics at Paris. Only 17 years old at the time, Jackie lost in the semifinals of the U. S. trials, but was so impressive he was taken along to France as an alternate.

In a pre-Olympics tournament in Paris, he turned the tables on his trials conqueror, replaced him on the U. S. team and went on to win a gold medal for this country.

Fields turned pro in late 1924 and eventually won the world welterweight crown in 1929 by whipping Young Jack Thompson. He lost it back to Thompson a year later, but regained the title in 1932 by beating Lou Brouillard.

Jackie was victorious in 70 of 84 pro bouts, including 28 knockouts. He fought two draws, dropped eight decisions and was stopped only once -- by JIMMY McLarnin in his tenth start as a pro.
