

OF THE STARS

They are followed by Nalani Kele's Polynesian beauties to make this a must stop for the boozers and losers. Sloopy (she opens at the Fremont), tells me that some time ago someone called her and said "Hello Sloopy is that you?" When Sloopy said yes he asked, "are you going to marry me." Sloopy replied "Certainly, who is this calling?"

Loony Lenny, the Deli man in Somerset, being a bachelor tells me that the girls complain that he always spends time instead of money.

Sammy Davis Jr. sure packs 'em in at the Sands. We had the normal problem and had to make reservations in advance. Dr. Laura Weber from Pasadena thinks Sammy is the greatest entertainer in the world her son John Burke, who just returned from Vietnam, agrees. A true but unusual story is that John Burke was in the navy twice. He was born while his mom was in the Navy Medical Corp and he has just finished his own hitch.

Television has gotten so bad that it is forcing people into theatres and hotels. We suggest that the T.V. bigwigs think seriously about broadcasting our strip shows intact to the T.V. viewers. Not toless of course.

We must thank Al Klass and the Brooklyn Jewish daily for crediting the Israelite as a Jewish voice in the Desert. This Brooklyn newspaper is the largest in the world. (ED. NOTE: One of the finest English - Jewish newspapers we've read. J. T.)

We took visiting Bob Benioff, San Francisco's finest furrier, to hear Pete Fountain's group. He loved it and so did we.

Just received a note from Burt Mold in Italy. We wish he comes back already. His wife Julie did a magnificent job working for the B'nai B'rith ladies promoting their theatre show. Incidentally everyone is looking forward to the New Year's party at the synagogue. More details

"HORN" AT T-BIRD XMAS EVE

Two major show changes plus several special events are scheduled this month at the Thunderbird Hotel, marking one of the busiest months in the current history of the Strip resort.

With Lawrence Roman's smash Broadway sex comedy, "Under the Yum-Yum Tree" extended through Dec. 16, Producer Stan Seiden is nearing completion of his cast for the resort's next big production, "Come Blow Your Horn."

"Come Blow Your Horn" will make its Thunderbird Hotel debut on Christmas Eve with the production to run a minimum five weeks.

"Under the Yum-Yum Tree", starring Gardner McKay, Virginia Mayo, Robert Q. Lewis and Patty McCormack, originally was scheduled to close Dec. 2. However, the production was extended two weeks with the comedy to run through Dec.

next week.

Attorney Jerry Kaufman tells a cute story about the time that the judge asking the jury if there were any questions. One replied: "Your honor what is a plaintiff and what is a defendant?"

Smarty Marty Kane tells me that his friend told his wife that their marriage spoiled a beautiful friendship.

My favorite comedian Jack E. Leonard continues to break up the audiences at the Frontier, Jimmy Moore, pit boss at there is a lot of fun to gossip with. He knows so many good stories, stop by to say hello to this genial guy.

We don't know what Al Bramlett did to accomplish it, but he looks so young. What is it?

We must tank Paul Price for his very moving Thanksgiving Day column. It was truly inspiring. This reporter must apologize. Peerless Paul actually picked a few winners last week despite the help he had from Scotty G. L. and Gordy Fink.

More Kabaret Next Week.

16. The Strip's surprise hit of the year, "Latin Fire Follies," returns to the T-Bird on Dec. 17 from a limited engagement in Puerto Rico. The fast-moving Latin revue will be the 8 p.m. and midnight feature through Dec. 23 then will move into the 2 and 4 p.m. slots.
