Organization. It deplored reported plans for shipment of some 110 jet planes to Libya.

The planes, the AZA resolution declared, are "obviously" destined for eventual shipment to Egypt for use against Israel and will produce "a sharp intensification of the Middle East arms race."

In addition, the AZA leaders maintained, it will greatly diminish prospects for a peaceful settlement of Arab-Israeli differences, since "it inflames Egyptian ambitions to annihilate Israel in battle, a threat frequently voiced by President Nasser."

France was urged "to return to its traditional friendship with Israel." This policy, the resolution added - "taking into account aggressive Arab designs and the instability of Arab governments - had nevertheless set the basis for an eventual easing of Middle East tension. For the longterm outlook for peace rests on Arab awareness that aggression cannot succeed and that true self-interest of the Arab people requires their recognition of Israel's existence, Arab-Israel trade, and cooperative Arab-Israel programs of large-scale construction.

GOLDBERG IN PARIS BLASTS ARAB ARMS SALE

New York - Former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg has told the French people that "not only the Jewish community" but the entire American people "is very much concerned by... the sale of arms to Libya". This was reported by the American Jewish Committee, which released an analysis on Mr. Goldberg's visit last week to France, where he presided at sessions of an extraordinary one-day conference on the plight of Jews of Arab lands. In a television address at the time to the French people, Mr. Goldberg, who is Honorary President of the American Jewish Committee, pointed out that American opinion is strongly opposed to an increased arms race between Israel and the Arabs. "It is the conviction of the U.S.," Mr. Goldberg declared, "that nothing good can come out of an escalation in the race for armaments in the Middle East." Mr. Goldberg's comments, the American Jewish Committee report showed, contradicted a French government-inspired campaign alleging that American opinion hostile to the French-Lybian arms deal was merely the expression of Jewish organizations.
