ACCEPTS U.N. RESOLUTION BUT ISRAEL BRUSHES ALL PEACE PLANS

STRIPPED, SEARCHED IN USSR

JERUSALEM (WNS) - A delegation of Israeli mayors who attended the Congress of the International Federation of Twin-Cities in Leningrad reported on their return to Israel that Soviet authorities forced some of the Israelis to strip off all their clothes and searched them before allowing the group to leave the Soviet Union.

Eliahu Speiser of Tel Aviv said that "some of us were stripped naked" at Leningrad Airport from where the group was preparing to depart. "They searched out attache cases and the bottoms of our suitcases. They seemed to be looking for books and other written material. For a while we thought their intention was to prevent our departure from Russia altogether. It was only after an hour's search that they stamped our passports and let us go," he said.

But the delegation noted that the Congress saw the Israeli flag flying in the Soviet Union for the first time since the Six-Day War. The mayors attended a Saturday morning service at the Leningrad Synagogue and their presence caused "great excitement."

JERUSALEM (WNS) - Israeli officials have indicated their government's coolness to the various peace plans proposed by the United States and the Soviet Union but have reaffirmed Jerusalem's acceptance of the basic United Nations resolution on the Mideast.

(American officials in Washington were waiting for the official Egyptian answer to the U.S. plan contained in Secretary of State William P. Rogers' heralded quiet peace effort launched earlier this month. Washington was pictured to be very pleased with reports from Cairo that Egypt will respond favorably to the American suggest for a limited ceasefire and a resumption of peace discussions. Egypt was prepared to accept a ceasefire for a limited time, reports from Cairo indicated.)

(The Egyptian answer to Mr. Rogers' proposals was agreed to during talks in Moscow between Pres. Nasser and Russian leaders. At the same time, Russia and Egypt signed an agreement calling for further Soviet military aid to Cairo. The two nations also called for complete Israeli withdrawal from all

JOE KADANS FOR BD. OF ED.

An alumnus of ten colleges and universities, including the University of Illinois, University of Michigan and University of Nevada, Las Vegas, has filed his candidacy for election to the Nevada State Board of Education. Joseph M. Kadans, of Las Vegas, age 57, in filing his candidacy, stated: "There is much to be done to bring the system of education in Nevada up to date, especially in the areas of special education."

Kadans said that he has taken courses in special education, pertaining to both handicapped and gifted children, at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas and is enrolled as a graduate student in special education at Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, Arizona taking summer courses there toward earning a master's degree in special education.

In addition to specializing in special education, Mr. Kadans is internationally known as the author of a book on maritime law, a subject he has taught in law schools both on the east and west coast, including Loyola University of Los Angeles School of Law.

The candidate is also noted for his accomplishments in the field of botany. He has recently written a book "Encyclopedia of Herbs" scheduled for publication this year by Parker Publishing Company, New York.

Discussing pay salaries of regular and substitute teacher, Mr. Kadans said that the present salary schedules are inadequate and teachers, both regular and substitute, should be second to none in salaries and daily rates for substitutes. Mr. Kadans has qualified for teaching at all levels in the Clark County School System. "I am probably the only person in education who has taught at all levels of education, from elementary, to junior high school, to high school, college and professional schools. Not only have I taught at all public school levels," Mr. Kadans said, "but in college teaching I have had the privilege of teaching a wide variety of subjects, including business law, economics, public speaking, history of civilization, political science and international trade. I have also substituted at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas in psychology classes."

In connection with private and parochial schools, Mr. Kadans was enthusiastic about the possibility of expanding these educational facilities. "Private and parochial schools should be encouraged," he said. "This takes a large burden from the taxpayers."

Mr. Kadans is married and lives with his wife Adele at the Kadans Ranch in Las Vegas.

Reds Ousted from Mideast

The time will come when the Israelis and the Arabs will band together to oust the Russians from the Mideast.

It won't happen tomorrow, or the day after, but as sure as God made little apples and it "ain't" gonna rain in Indianapolis, it is inevitable. The future of that little corner of the world and its relationship with all other countries depend upon a unified understanding that will bring about mutually beneficial progress for the betterment of all in the area.

This is not wishful hoping. History will bear us out and performance of events in the past has always been the best

OLSEN FOR ASSEMBLY NO. 4

Art Olsen, a Democrat, filed for the Assembly in District No. 4.

He is currently serving as Chairman of the Narcotic Fact Finding Committee which held hearings over the past several months on the problems of narcotics among juveniles. The committee has just released a report on the drug situation among youngsters in Clark County. The report shows that 7,000 children or 10% of the school population are on drugs. The report sets forth 17 recommendations aimed at curbing the drug problem.

Olsen said the findings will be presented to legislators, school officials, P.T.A. officers and Nevada's Congressional Delegation. In addition the report will be made available to the general public.

He also serves as chairman of the Clark County Juvenile Welfare Board which has been appointed by Juvenile Judge John Mendoza to study juvenile problems in the County.

Olsen points out the fact that 10,000 juveniles will be processed by the Juvenile Court Services this year.

Other matters which require Legislative attention are:

We need a strong conflict of interest law which must cover all three branches of State Government.

Olsen is critical of the Dodge Act which was passed in 1969 in order to provide collective bargaining machinery for public employees. Under the present law there is simply no way employees can bring negotiations to a successful conclusion if government representatives want to prolong bargaining.

He also explained that Legislative reapportionment in accordance with the 1970 census figures will be a major task for the 1971 session.

Olsen is a graduate of DePaul University where he received a B.S. in the School of Commerce and a J.D. Degree in the School of Law.

JAP CAR FIRMS BOYCOTT ISRAEL

NEW YORK (WNS) - The Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations charged that Japan Air Lines and the Toyota Motor Co. and the Nissan Motor Co., manufacturer of the Datsun auto, were submitted to the Arab boycott of Israel.

The two auto firms are leading distributors of cars throughout the world. But the Jewish group noted that neither had franchises and dealerships in Israel. A Toyota executive was quoted by the Conference as declaring it had considered doing business with Israel but that it trades with Egypt and "encountered boycott threats." The Nissan firm told an Israeli motor sales company in a letter that "we are now exporting 20,000 units a year to the Arabic countries. . . The boycott restrictions. . . will surely create the total ban of our exports to the Arabic countries."

The Japanese airline had stalled a mutual air agreement with Israel that would give JAL and El Al landing rights in the other's nation. But JAL had held talks on the matter with Israel last month and an Israeli delegation is due to meet Japanese air authorities in Tokyo later this month.

The Conference said that the Japanese companies had given in to the boycott because the Tokyo government, while friendly to Israel, failed to adopt a policy protecting Japanese industry from Arab pressure.

REDS IGNORE 85 SOVIET JEWS

LONDON (WNS) - The Supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament, has completely ignored requests from 85 Soviet Jews for permission to emigrate to Israel. The Jews had issued appeals to coincide with the current session of the Soviet legislative body.

Three different groups of Jews made the appeals to the Supreme Soviet. One petition was signed by 45 Moscow Jews, another by 10 Moscow Jews and the third by 30 Latvian Jews. The letter from the 10 Muscovites challenged the Russian government to arrest them for sedition if they are now allowed to leave for Israel.

(In Israel, the Public Council for Soviet Jewry held its founding assembly in Jerusalem. During the meeting a letter from a Russian Jew answering an anti-Israel attack by Soviet Jewish Gen. David Dragunsky was read. The writer, V. Polsky, declared that "the hatred against the Jews of Israel which you foment is going to boomerang against the Jews of the Soviet Union."
