

STEVE MILLER FOR ASSEMBLY 4

Las Vegas newspaper columnist Steve Miller has filed as a Democratic candidate for the Nevada State Assembly, District 4. Mr. Miller, a twelve-year resident of Las Vegas, graduated from Las Vegas High School and later attended the University of Nevada at Las Vegas.

known as a local radio and television personality. Miller bases his campaign on his experience as a businessman and youth leader, and his active community service. He resides in Paradise Valley with his wife Gail and daughter Michelle.

PAULINE DEWEY FOR ASSEMBLY 4

Pauline T. Dewey, a member of the Clark County Library Board of Trustees, filed her candidacy for Assembly 4.

Mrs. Dewey, a widow, is Editor and publisher of the Nevada Mobile Home Times, which caters to the Miracle Market of mobile homes. Her paper is in its tenth year. She has been largely responsible for the growth and public relations of the mobile home industry.

Her often fiery editorials have been controversial, since she pulls no punches in her fight for equality and fair play. One of her pet "hang-ups" is people not being given equal chances for their commensurate ability. She said, "I could care less for ethnic groups. A person who has it on the ball should be recognized regardless of party, color, creed or race; but God help the ones who try to push their way by yelling, "Discrimination" when they have nothing to offer the world but a loud mouth and a soft brain something for nothing attitude too prevalent today."

She honestly believes the silent majority is fed up with pork barrel politicians and are in dire need of solid business people to manage the country.

HERE IS WHAT SOME NATIONAL LEADERS AND THE NEVADA PRESS HAVE SAID OF MIKE O'CALLAGHAN'S ABILITY

"The professional competence you have displayed in carrying out your emergency responsibilities has materially aided my staff in responding to emergency situations."

Ronald Reagan
Governor of California

"I have been impressed by the energy and ability which you have brought to the job of Regional Director. It has been especially great to work with you on federal-state relations."

Hubert Gallagher
Office of Emergency Preparedness
Office of the President
Washington, D.C.

"For your kind personal interest in and understanding of Hawaiian problems, I thank you wholeheartedly."

John A. Burns
Governor of Hawaii

"Mike O'Callaghan came to our rescue, and I want you to know how very much we appreciate the speedy dispatch of planes, helicopters, emergency relief and professional guidance in working out our problems."

Jack Williams
Governor of Arizona

"In all my years as Governor of Nevada, no one carried out his responsibilities with more professional skill, and yet with compassion and understanding for human beings, than Mike O'Callaghan."

Grant Sawyer
Governor of Nevada

"This past week, O'Callaghan has brought more common sense business practices to Carson City. He may well go down not only as a unique government official, but one of the best we have had in the State Capitol in a long time."

Las Vegas Review Journal

"It may take state government in Carson City a little while to get over the shock, but the shock will do it good when Mike O'Callaghan comes to work in the State Capitol."

Nevada State Journal (Reno)

"O'Callaghan has heart, compassion and an innate understanding of people. His work with youngsters has been almost phenomenal. Too bad there are not more people in public life like Mike O'Callaghan, who has the courage of his convictions and does not hesitate to let the world know where he stands."

Las Vegas SUN

"During his stay in Carson City, the wide-shouldered Irishman has probably wrought more changes and sparked more comment than any administrator in the history of the Sawyer administration."
