

Only in Vegas By Helene Stadler

The Youth Commission of Temple Beth Shalom is proud to present a special performance of "The Great Cross-Country Race" ("The Tortoise and the Hare") by Alan Broadhurst. The classic fable concerning the adventures of the wise old tortoise and the prodigal hare is by the Youth Theatre, University of Nevada, Las Vegas, in the Temple Social Hall on Sunday, November 15 at 2:30 p.m. sharp. Admission is 25 cents per child and 50 cents for adults. All are welcome.

Hotel Stardust's "Lido de Paris" revue Bluebell dancers and showgirls, famed for raising the blood pressure of red-blooded males, have banded together to aid the Blood Services of Las Vegas' drive for blood donors. Not only did the Lido dolls travel down to 810 So. Casino Blvd. to donate a pint of blood each but they formed a committee to urge gals from other Strip shows to join them in this laudable activity.

Project SOAR Chairman State Senator Chic Hecht indicates that representatives of government agencies and organizations dealing with the environment have been called together to help map out a massive Boy Scout action and educational program to combat pollution in Southern Nevada.

Innovations which may someday open new dimensions in the field of biology, medical technology and environmental science will be displayed 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday, Nov. 23 at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Dear Helene Stadler,
I must have the greatest landlord in the country.

Irwin Kishner has kept my same apt. the past three years for four months during the summer for me when I go to my lake home, Hillsway on Ann Lake, Mora, Minnesota, and when I come back he has it all painted up and clean as a whistle. I am at the Somerset Gardens on Kishner Drive and have my same phone number - it is in the book.

You are so widely read, I hope you can tell my friends in your column I am back, etc. Thanks very much.

Sincerely,
Roland Hill, Pres.,

designated Army helicopter pilots, who have recently returned from Viet Nam and have had a great deal of combat duty. They will be by the Silver Slipper Gambling Hall and Saloon with a complimentary reservation to Barry Ashton's "Wonderful World of Burlesque - 1970", complimentary dinner reservations, buffet luncheon, breakfast, and a host of other Silver Slipper facilities.

A 215-page book entitled "Lincoln and the Politics of Slavery" has been written by John S. Wright, a professor of history at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Martha Graham, who recently announced her retirement at 76, will perform with her dance company on Sunday, November 15 at 10 p.m. on Channel 10.

"MONTERRAT"
Lillian Hellman's adaptation of "Montserrat", a shattering, suspenseful drama with important contemporary implications, will be the initial offering of the Hollywood Television Theatre's new season on PBS, the Public Broadcasting System, Tuesday evening, January 5, 1971. It was announced today by executive producer Lewis Freedman.

Created and underwritten by a grant from the Ford Foundation to station KCET-TV in Los Angeles, the Hollywood Television Theatre will present a full-length play the first Tuesday of every month from January through May, 1971.

"Montserrat" will be followed by Hugh Wheeler's comedy, "Big Fish, Little Fish", on Tuesday, February 2; a repeat of last season's highly acclaimed production of the Saul Leavitt drama, "The Andersonville Trial", on Tuesday, March 2; "Poet Game", an original play by Anthony Terpiloff, on Tuesday, April 6; and "U.S.A." by John Dos Passos and Paul Shrye, on Tuesday, May 4.

Freedman is currently casting "Montserrat" and expects to have it before the cameras within the next four weeks. Miss Hellman adapted "Montserrat" from a French play by Emmanuel Robles. It was produced on Broadway in 1949.
