WASHINGTON, D.C. (WNS)--Rabbi Joseph Karasick, president of the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America, announced plans to call a conference of Orthodox rabbis and laymen in the near future to form a single Orthodox agency to serve the American Orthodox Jewish population and end the "duplication, rivalry, and wasteful fragmentation" that exists today among Orthodox agencies. He told the 2,000 delegates attending the 72nd biennial convention, "precious manpower" was being wasted because of "the lack of coordination and efficiency."
