LETTERS

Dear Mr. Tell:

I was very happy to see your pictures of the three representatives of the Jewish community who hold public office. I wanted to call to your attention the fact that you omitted Leonard Root, who has been District Attorney in Mineral County for some years. He practices law in Las Vegas, with his office at Fourth and Carson.

With greetings of the season,
Sincerely yours,
Emilie N. Wanderer

BABY "AL"

Allan Sachs, popular vice-president and general manager of Las Vegas' Stardust Hotel, is the first Stardust exec to have a guest's offspring named after him. Sachs sent a beautiful bouquet of flowers to the mother of a 6 pound, 6 ounce boy born at Nevada Southern Memorial Hospital over the weekend. The flowers were sent after Sachs learned that the parents of the new arrival, Suhaila and Michel Alarai, of San Francisco, were in their room at the Stardust when the stork started fluttering.

The Alarais, both of whom are of Arabic descent and were born in Jerusalem, Palestine, had attended the Lido show Friday night. Due to faulty calculation they had no idea the baby was going to be born the next morning.
