CHRISTIAN LEADERS FAVOR ISRAEL'S CONTINUED CONTROL OF JERUSALEM

When Sugar Ray Robinson announced to the world after his knockout of Gene Fulmer that this was his last fight, the public accepted his word with saddened eyes. Yet Sugar Ray returned to the ring a year later and is still fighting exhibitions to this date. When Joe Louis stopped Jersey Joe Walcott, he also informed us that his fighting days were over. We all recall how the Brown Bomber tried a comeback and was humiliated by the onslaught of Rocky Marciano.

Dr. Littell was just reelected chairman of a Joint Faith and Order Study Commission of the National Council of Churches and the National Conference of Catholic Bishops on Christianity, Israel, and the Middle East. Sharing the podium with Dr. Littell at the news conference was the Rev. Edward H. Flannery, Executive Secretary of the U.S. Catholic Bishops' Secretariat on Catholic-Jewish Relations.

The statement, Dr. Littell explained, was the result of a recent ad hoc meeting of Christian leaders responding to growing pressures from Arab countries and pro-Arab elements in the Christian churches that seek to discredit Israel's administration of the Holy City.

During the past few months, editorials in L'OSSERVATORE ROMANO, the official Vatican newspaper, and statements by Jordan's King Hussein and Lebanon's Foreign Minister Khalil Abu Hamad have indicated an increasingly organized Muslim-Christian pressure bloc that is trying to make the internationalization of Jerusalem an essential part of any possible Middle East peace plan.
