

Our routine family cycle was thrown out of kilter ten days ago when one very important member was involved in an automobile accident, I was told the following story when I arrived home about 8 p.m. It seems that my wife Rita was saying goodby to a poker dealer friend of ours when our cute little terrier dog, TOTO, slipped out of the front door. Now TOTO, named after Dorothy's dog in the Wizard of Oz, is a frisky pup of about five months of age who loves to run about all over the landscape at her own free will. Perhaps we have spoiled her but we always loved her free and independent spirit and refusal to come into the house unless cornered and carried.

Anticipating a tough fight to get TOTO back indoors Rita and our friend Mike yelled for her to come back. But TOTO had other things on her mind. An adorable friend of hers, an Irish Setter, was barking to her from across the street. TOTO without hesitation ran across the street to join her pal. Then the inevitable occurred. Rita and Mike saw it coming but were helpless to do anything about it. A late model station wagon was zipping much too briskly down our residential block. Rita screamed but it was too late. The front wheels of the wagon cracked into TOTO somersaulting our little pup under the car only to be struck again by the rear wheels. TOTO let out a muffled cry and lay perfectly still in the street. The driver of the wagon braked his car once, then thought about it, and sped off faster than ever. Rita covered her eyes and ran back to the house. She sobbingly asked Mike to see if the dog was alive.

Mike was late for work. He was all ready to hop into his car and put in his eight hour shift when the incident happened. But as a friend and feeling partly responsible he went out into that cold street to scrape TOTO, or what was left of our dog, from the ground. He was white as a ghost. He gently lifted the animal and shut his eyes. As he carried her into our garage, he felt something dripping on his newly shined shoes. He was sure it was blood and the dog was finished. He had seen the animal struck by a speeding auto, cartwheel to its rear and struck again. No person could have survived it no less a ten pound puppy. When he regained his courage he glanced down at the dog and noticed her regain her breath. The breathing came in short gasps and her body report published --A here by newspaper columnist Hungarian Jews charged Jack Anderson, that that Szebedinsky had President Nixon and once worn the Nazi SS Vice President Agnew had "paid high tribute to a notorious anti-Jewish editor in Pitts-burgh," drew a denial of anti-Semitism from the White House. Anderson reported in the Washington Post that "effusive accolades" from Nixon and Agnew were published last May by "the proud editor Geno Szebedinsky in the same newspaper where he touted such scandaanti-Semitic lously tracts as the 'Protocols of the Elders of Zion' and 'Myth of the Six Million.

(Continued on Page 4)

Anderson identified the paper as the Hun-garian-language "Mag-

MIULAJI WASHINGTON (WNS)

dent Tito arrived in YAHRZEITS TONIGHT AT BETH SHOLOM

FRIDAY, NOV. 5, 1971 Abraham Lublin Harry Marcus Edward Stern Harry Banks Solomon Levine Albert Portnoy Benjamin Spier Louis H. Cohen William Kaplan Samuel Greenspun Herman Pearlman David Cobert Robert Bremson Charles B. Edwards Israel Cohen Elias Friedland Samuel Barsky Isidore Spiegler

Rose Rubin Leah Feinberg Stella Leidner Esther Adelson Nettie Josephson Rachel Pollak Anna Ida Silverman Rose Angel

t published pointed out that the syndicated World Federation of univorm. A White House statement said that "President Nixon has never condoned and does not condone anti-Semitism in any form." It added that "The President frequently sends messages of congratulations to persons being honored by testimonial din-ners."

Agnew's press sec-etary, Victor Gold, retary, declared that the Vice President associated himself with the White House statement and that "we are not going to retract our wire," which was "handled in a routine way."

PEAGE : Washington on a state --Yugoslavia's Presi- visit after meeting with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat in Cairo. State Department spokesman Charles Bray said the U.S. expects Tito's close ties Cairo to help in to achieving an interim Middle East agreement. of State Secretary William P. Rogers said "We feel that President Tito can play a very important role in helping the parties in that connection." It was not explained how Tito could help since Yugoslavia has no diplomatic relations with Israel.

HADASSAH BINGO Las Vegas Hadassah will conduct a 20-game Bingo Party at the Stardust Auditorium Monday, Nov. 8, starting at 8 p.m. A $2.00 donation includes gorgeous, valuable prizes and refreshments.

Tickets may be ob-tained at the door

200002-20005-200000 SORRY! PESKY TOOTH PULLED - NO COLUMN TODAY.

Constitutes A Majority"

BY JACK TELL

HADA SSAH

PROFESSOR I. C. MICHAELSON, HEAD OF THE DEPARTMENT OF OPHTHALMOLOGY AT HADASSAH-HEBREW UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER, ADDRESSES SESSION. SEATED ON THE DAIS ARE PROF. J. FRANCOIS, OF BEL-GUIM, AND J. F. WILSON, C.B.E., OF ENGLAND.

JERUSALEM -- A world Committee for the Prevention of Blindness has been set up as a result of the Jerusalem Seminar for the Prevention of Blindness which took place in Israel at the end of August, 1971. The aims of the Committee are to coordinate the battle against blindness on national, regional and supranational levels.

There has been an explosion of blindness in the world: where there were 5 million blind in 1950, there are now 15 million. Tragically and ironically, over 70 per cent of this terrible denial of light to human beings could be prevented or cured, if thecorrect measures were taken in time.

These grim facts were discussed at the Jerusalem Seminar, which was attended by 450delegates from 41 countries. A unique feature of the Seminar was that it brought together for the first time in history, the leading ophthalmologists and basic scientists from the (Continued on Page 2)