airport to greet the newcomers. The family was received by Attorney General Mitchell Jan. 7 at the Department of Justice in Washington D.C.

Attorney General Mitchell stated on October 1st that he would use his legal authority whenever necessary to allow Soviet Jews to enter the United States under Section 212 (d) (5) of the Immigration and Nationality Law, generally known as parole. Steps were immediately taken to implement this statute.

Mr. Friedman stated that all emigration from the Soviet Union is based upon the transmittal of a letter of invitation from a relative, and that his organization was prepared to assist in the preparation of such a letter as well as with all the other necessary details.

Mr. Jacobson pointed out that there has been a pronounced increase in interest and activity on behalf of Soviet Jews who have relatives in the United States. He expressed high praise for the cooperation of the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration and the U.S. Department of State.
