HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. (WNS)--The Board of Trustees of Hofstra University has upheld the right of a neo-Nazi student, David Kerr, 21, to hand a five foot Nazi flag from the window of his dormitory room and to advertise for members for the neo-Nazi National Socialist White People's Party of Arlington, Va. in the student paper which is supported by student activity fees.

The student body of the university, which is located a short distance from New York City, is estimated to be 40 to 50 percent Jewish.

Half of the faculty and Board of Trustees are also estimated to be Jewish.

Tension is building on the campus according to Rabbi Leo Wolf, director of the local B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation, who said that Jewish and non-Jewish groups on campus and off are seeking community support to get the university authorities to remove the offensive symbol.
