UNITED NATIONS (WNS)--Arthur A. Fletcher, U.S. representative on the UN Committee on Elimination of all Forms of Racial Discrimination, urged the Soviet Union to "accord a right to Emigrate and to permit the many Jews who remain in the Soviet Union to pursue their cultural and religious interests without hindrance." Fletcher told the Committee that despite Soviet claims that there is no discrimination against Soviet Jews.

Mrs. Rita Hauser, U.S. representative on the UN Human Rights Commission, told the National Social Action Conference of the National Women's League of the United Synagogue, that Americans were doing the right thing in speaking out against any injustices by the Soviet government against its Jewish citizens.

She said they should continue to speak out because their criticisms are productive, and are a factor in the increased emigration of Jews from the USSR.

JERUSALEM (WNS) --Political sources here watched with interest a public airing of differences on the methods of reaching a solution to the conflict with Israel by two of Egypt's leading newspapers. Mohammed Hassanein Heikal, editor-in-chief of the influential Cairo daily, Al Ahram, in a signed column, suggested that Egypt would do well to drop its insistence on a prior Israeli commitment to withdraw from occupied Arab territories before peace negotiations can begin. Heikal was a close friend and confidant of the late President Gamal Abdel Nasser and is similarly close to Pres. Anwar Sadat. Observers here believe he would not have written his column without either the President's approval or of someone who spoke for Sadat. However, the official government newspaper, Al Gumhuriya, has criticized Heikal's position, without mentioning Heikal by name. Heikal's position was also attacked by newspapers in the Arab capitals of Beirut, Amman and Algiers. Al Gumhuriya suggested there is only one solution to the Middle East conflict: "What has been taken by force can only be retrieved by force." Some observers here view the Heikal column as a trial balloon and Al Gumhuriya's criticism of it a way out for the government should public reaction be unfavorable.

"One Man Plus The Truth Constitutes A Majority"

Disgrace to Newspapermen

It is truly a shame that two journalistic jerks like Sun publisher Hank Greenspun and his columnist Paul Price should cast a cloud over the entire newspaper profession.

If either of the two were but casual writers intent on reporting the truth in the interest of justice, like practically every other newspaperman in the business, no matter how far off base they fly or no matter how illogical their dispositions, we could excuse their shortcomings as misunderstandings or misconceptions. But these two are not innocent bystanders. They are not honest, decent reporters writing for the edification of their reading public. Theirs is a nefarious purpose, deliberate and systematic, in this instance to discredit the courts and disrupt our whole system of jurisprudence. Why?

In the case of Greenspun, he has already pocketed at least $10,000,000 in cash from Howard Hughes under most suspicious and highly questionable circumstances. Price has been accused of extorting money from candidates seeking public office, a federal offense punishable by jail.

Greenspun is in jeopardy of losing his Sun newspaper property and Price could face a term in prison. Is it any wonder these two degenerate despoilers of a noble profession would go to any lengths to confuse and confound an innocent public with deliberate, malicious falsifications?

Last week we tagged our column with:

(ED. NOTE: A future column is being prepared to expose the deliberate, motivated plot by Sun publisher Hank Greenspun in conspiracy with Sun columnist Paul Price to discredit Dist. Court Judge Howard Babcock, one of the most reputable jurists ever to serve here or anywhere. Price has relinquished his role as "Hatchet Man" to assume the post of "Yes Man" -- who kisses his boss on all FOUR cheeks. J.T.)

Herewith is our explanation.

The Nevada Supreme Court, in a split decision reversed a ruling of Dist. Court Judge Howard W. Babcock in favor of Hughes Tool Co. in litigation with Robert Maheu, former chief of Hughes Nevada Operation, who was fired from a $10,000-a-week job. Greenspun is also suing Hughes for $142,000,000.

Any honorable person, whether he be a bank president or hod carrier, and especially a
