NIXON'S TRIP
Churchmen, said "if we are not willing to lay ourselves on the line" for persecuted Soviet Jews, "we are not ready to help ourselves." Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum, interreligious affairs director of the American Jewish Committee, told 700 persons at a rally at Holy Name Cathedral that he expected President Nixon to raise the Soviet Jewish issue with Kremlin leaders and to report to the American public on the outcome. Rep. Robert Drinan, a Massachusetts Democrat, and a Jesuit priest, told the Consultation that President Nixon had failed to rally American public opinion for relief of the problems of Soviet Jews. He said he would visit Israel late in May for the Consultation and would report to the delegates on his findings concerning Soviet Jewish migration to Israel. He said he hoped that American Christians would be "aroused at the injustices" inflicted on Soviet Jews and also that they would help Israel with its "acute problems" stemming from its role in the "on-going ingathering of exiles and refugees." Mayor Charles Evers of Fayette, Miss., said it would be "a disgrace to American Jews" if President Nixon did not tell Soviet officials to "let our people go." He said he had come to the meeting because he remembered Jewish participation in the Mississippi civil rights struggle and "I do not forget those who helped me."

UTICA N.Y. (WNS)--For the first time in the history of Utica inter-faith activities, 275 Catholic priests, nuns and teachers met at Temple Beth El here this week to sing Passover songs. The setting was a seder asked for by the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

JERUSALEM (WNS)--The Black Panthers announced they have distributed $600 in gift certificates to poor families in this city.

UN RESOLUTION ACCUSES ISRAEL

UNITED NATIONS resolution accusing Israel of "war crimes" in its administration of the occupied Arab areas. Israel denounced the resolution as "slandorous and invalid."

The resolution was based on a report of a UN working group made up of member states without diplomatic relations with Israel which did not visit any of the occupied areas.

The Israel Mission noted that the minority of the UN commission supporting the resolution was made up of Arab and pro-Arab states, particularly Egypt, Iraq and Pakistan. The vote was 15 to four with 11 abstaining.

The United States voted against the resolution, France voted for it and Britain abstained.

The resolution was described by western sources at the UN as "a propaganda exercise by the Russians and the Arabs." They said a similar measure approved last year was not acted on.
