HADASSAH TURKEY FARM

LARRY CHELDER, A FORMER MEMBER OF YOUNG JUDAEA AND HASHACHAR YOUTH LEADER FROM NEW YORK, IS NOW HEAD OF THE TURKEY PROJECT AT MOSHAV NEVE LLAN, THE HADASSAH- SPONSORED COOPERATIVE DEVELOPMENT NEAR JERUSALEM ORGANIZED BY YOUNG AMERICAN AND ISRAELI FAMILIES.

terday and tomorrow he can obtain a new light on what he thinks himself sure of today. O god, Thou hast appointed me to watch over the life and death of Thy creatures; here I am ready for my vocation and now I turn to my calling."

INDIAN ORCHARD, PA. (WNS) -- Charging the North American Jewish student Network was too "leftist" and "more interested in California lettuce-pickers than Soviet Jews," dissidents led by the Jewish Defense League, Betar and other militant factions, walked out of the Network convention.

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- Hillel Ashkenazi, director general of the Absorption Ministry, is seeking measures to introduce the rate of returnees (yordim) among immigrants from Western nations. He said nine percent of the immigrants leave Israel after the first year and another three percent after the second year.

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- Shrage Goren-Gorochovski, a member of the first Knesset and a director of the Workers Bank died here at the age of 75.

RABAT (WNS) -- U.N. secretary General Dr. Kurt Waldheim, here to attend the Presidents Conference of the Organization for African Unity, said the mission of Gunnar V. Jarring, U.N. Middle East peace mediator, had reached "a dead end."

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Israeli officials denied a report in the Chicago Sun-Times that supporters of Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination, had protested to Premier Golda Meir over alleged politicking for the re-election of President Nixon by Israeli Ambassador to the U.S., Yitzhak Rabin.

NEW YORK (WNS) -- The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith in a full page ad which appeared in the New York Times June 17, called Norman F. Dacey, author of the best selling book "How to Avoid Probate," and "active pro-Arabist" who uses the kind of anti-Semitism not heard in many years.

WASHINGTON (WNS) -- The authorization bill for the foreign aid program now being debated in the Senate provides for $99.9 million to Israel in military and economic assistance grants.

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- Four Syrian soldiers on an intelligence mission were killed in a clash with an Israeli patrol near Houshaniyeh on the Golan Heights.

believe the association is that close between the state's chief executive and the Sun publisher. Let's examine the kindship of the two.

O'Callaghan attends a governor's convention in Dallas. The next day Lawrence O'Brian, the chairman of the National Democratic Party, invites Hank Greenspun, a registered Republican, to address the policy making platform committee of the Democrats. Why Greenspun, of all people? Where did O'Brian ever hear of the punk publisher, whose latest farce was to blast Nevada attorneys for not helping Greenspun save his own hide against forthcoming investigations by Federal agencies. The F.B.I. and the I.R.S. are hard at work to determine whether full and proper taxes were paid by those who grommed money from Howard Hughes.

Hank, in return, scratched Mike's back by suggesting the Clark County grand jury system be revised to the governor appointing the Blue Ribbon jurors. In effect, what Greenspun was insulting his readers with, was that he should be the one to appoint the jurors, since Hank and Mike are practically one and the same. If you point a finger at Mike, Greenspun considers it a punch in his own jaw.

Now let us consider the latest diatribe instituted by Greenspun to protect the "good" name of Mike O'Callaghan.

Judge Babcock's observation, very simply, was that the governor and the state have done nothing, and there is nothing planned to establish a minimum security facility for treatment of persons convicted and about to be sentenced. The only alternative a judge has, at this very moment, is to sentence the offender to prison or release the guilty party on probation. Nearly every judge agrees that prison is not the answer.

Let us analyze Greenspun's column on this subject. Hank says:

IT APPEARS JUDGE BABCOCK JUST FOUND OUT THERE IS A NARCOTICS PROBLEM IN THE COMMUNITY AND HE IMMEDIATELY STARTED BEATING UP ON THE GOVERNOR, THE LEGISLATORS AND EVERYONE ELSE WHO HAS BEEN WORKING PERSEVERINGLY IN THE FIELD OF DRUG ABUSE.

This is not true. Judge Babcock just as an 8-year-old, knows very well there is a narcotics problem. But there is no minimum security facility. The judge directed his criticism at the governor and the state legislature, not "everyone else," as distorted by Greenspun. The column went on:

IN FACT, GOV. MIKE O'CALLAGHAN HAS PROBABLY DONE MORE WORK IN THIS FIELD THAN ALL OUR OTHER GOVERNORS COMBINED. HE HAS BEEN WORKING ON IT SINCE THE DAYS HE WAS A PROBATION OFFICER IN CLARK COUNTY AND DEALT WITH IT AT FIRST HAND.

Here is a statement by Greenspun, that calls for specific information. We ask, just what has Gov. Mike O'Callaghan actually done, or proposed, or has in mind to establish a minimum security facility? We knew Mike O'Callaghan when he was teamed up with Moon Mullins (now a municipal judge) as probation officers tagging kids out after curfew. Mike was a grand guy in those days. He had compassion and feeling and applied every personal effort to aid and assist the youngsters. Those were the days Mike had to go through working newspapermen, like ourself, to get a story in the paper.

Since then, he apparently has forgotten the very ones who supported him and elected him over favored Lt. Gov. Ed Fike. Mike refused to budge to help those taken unceremoniously off relief. It took federal Judge Roger Foley, who don't need support of any voters, to set the record straight and re-instate those who depended on the monthly checks for the absolute necessities of life. But we are still waiting for Greenspun to prove his statement that O'Callaghan has done more, etc. Here's Hank still raving:

No News Good News?

At the summit meeting, a joint communique was issued on the Israeli-Arab conflict by the United States and the Soviet Union. It said, in part, that "the two sides set their positions on this question. They reaffirm their support for a peaceful settlement in the Middle East according to Security Council resolution 242." Both sides pledged their support of the Jarring mission and that they desired to contribute to its success.

More recently, Paris insiders quote Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko as having said that President Nixon and Soviet Communist Party Secretary General Leonid Brezhnev discussed the Middle East in detail in Moscow but that "their disagreement on the evaluation of the situation was total." It was also reported that Gromyko, in Paris for meetings with French government chiefs, was "highly pessimistic" as a result of the near total disagreement.

And in Moscow on May 29th, Henry Kissinger national security affairs adviser to the President told newsmen, "This is a subject (Middle East) on which a great deal depends on the parties concerned and the power of outside parties is limited. Both sides favor progress."

That is like being against sin and in favor of motherhood. But with the developments lately even both questions are in serious doubt.

Oath for Doctors

BY RABBI SAMUEL SILVER

The Hippocratic Oath for doctors is being downgraded in some medical circles, and suggestions have been made that it be replaced by the statement formulated by the greatest of all Jewish philosophers, Miamonides, also known as Rambam, who was a physician of note. Indeed, some medical schools have already adopted the Maimonidean Oath, which goes thus:

"Thy eternal providence has appointed me to watch over the life and health of Thy creatures. May the love of my art actuate me all times; may neither avarice, nor miserliness, nor thirst for glory or a great reputation engage my mind; for the enemies of truth and philanthropy could easily deceive me and make me forgetful of my lofty aim of doing good to Thy children.

"May I never see in the patient anything but a fellow-creature in pain.

"Grant me strength, time and opportunity always to correct what I have acquired always to extend its domain; for knowledge is immense and the spirit of man can extend indefinitely to enrich itself daily with new requirements.

"Today he can discover his errors of yes-
