NEXT DECADE JEWISH CHANGES

NEW YORK (WNS) -- operates by enlarging its decision making base to give greater representation to academicians, the poor and the less affluent middle class. Underlying the task force's deliberations were some basic observations of demographic and sociological changes that have affected American Jews, namely, the steady migration of Jewish families from the metropolitan centers of the Northeast to smaller communities in the West and South; shift in population between the city, the established suburbs, and the newer suburbs.

Thirty-four Jewish sociologists, philosophers religious and communal leaders who comprised a task force on the Future of the Jewish Community in America, organized by the American Jewish Committee, have submitted a 104-page report on predicted changes within the Jewish community for the next decade. The three major innovations are: more emphasis on education, community involvement, and synagogue activity; enlarging scope of Jewish communal services by pooling organizational resources; and changing the way the Jewish community

ISRAEL ATTACKS SYRIAN BASES

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- lery opened fire on Israeli Air Force jets attacked four terrorist strongholds in Syria, and for the first time, bombed a Syrian Army camp after Syrian artil-

to their bases. The targets of the raids were identified as terrorist bases in or near villages within 7-12 kilometers of Damascus.

At the UN, Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekoah, responding to Syrian protests against Israeli raids around Damascus, suggested that "Instead of keeping accounts of one-sided resolutions and distorting even such dubious texts, it would behoove Syria to begin abiding by its international obligations."

This, said Tekoah in a letter to Secretary General Kurt Waldheim for circulation among United Nations members, means that "Syria is duty-bound to eliminate the terrorist bases within its borders to stop enrolling officers and soldiers of the Syrian Army in the ranks of the terror organizations."
