

Sen. Charles Percy

"At Chanukah, I join with the Jewish community in its determination that Israel shall be fully supported in her Maccabean struggle to defend her land against aggression.

"We must do everything possible in support of Israel's legitimate aspirations for peace and security, and we must never compromise her security in the name of peace.

"Furthermore, we should redouble our efforts to obtain the right of free emigration for Jews living in the Soviet Union and in Arab countries. Chanukah provides an appropriate opportunity to speak out for human dignity and religious freedom everywhere.

"A happy Chanukah to all members of the Jewish community."

JEWISH CHANGES PROJECTED

NEW YORK -- Three major innovations in Jewish communal life will take place in the coming decade, according to a group of distinguished Jewish scholars. They will include:

* A reordering of priorities for Jewish communal organizations, which, while continuing to aid individuals in trouble, will place greater emphasis on education, community involvement in synagogue activity, and improvement in the quality of Jewish life;

* Enlarging the scope of Jewish communal service by pooling of organizational resources and by the establishment of regional centers of Jewish culture;

* Changing the way the Jewish community operates by enlarging its decision-making base to give greater representation to segments of the community that have heretofore been under represented -- particularly academicians, the poor, and the less affluent middle class -- and by setting new criteria for professional and lay leadership.

ership.

These were some of the conclusions reached by 34 leading Jewish sociologists, philosophers, religious, and communal leaders who comprised a Task Force on the Future of the Jewish Community in America, organized by the American Jewish Committee. A 104-page report of their deliberations over a two-year period, published by the AJC, was launched at a news conference at AJC national headquarters.

Dr. David Sidorsky, Professor of Philosophy at Columbia University, who wrote the Task Force Report, served as spokesman for the group. Louis Stern of South Orange, N.J., former President of the Jewish Welfare Board & of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds, who served as chairman of the Task Force, was chairman.

Copies of the Task Force Report on the Future of the Jewish Community in America are available at $1.50 each from the American Jewish Committee, 165 East 56 Street, New York, N.Y. 10022. Please contact Morton Yarmon for review copies.

NEW YORK (WNS)--Gen. Haim Barlev, Israel's Minister of Commerce and Industry, told the American-Israel Chamber of Commerce at a meeting here, that for the time being, the administered territories are "more a liability than an asset" and "cost us more than they produce."

WASHINGTON (WNS)--The U.S. Department of Agriculture has agreed to sales of $62.5 million worth of feedgrains, wheat, flour, edible vegetable oil and tobacco to Israel during 1973.

TEL AVIV (WNS)--Following the capture of a Syrian army regular among terrorist prisoners taken during Israeli army raids last month, Israeli authorities revealed that Syrian soldiers were serving in the Palestinian terrorist organizations.

AMSTERDAM (WNS)--A time bomb containing 1 to 2 kg. of explosive tritium was discovered and disarmed near the entrance to the building in Rotterdam which houses the Dutch agents for Zim lines.
