

Only in Vegas

By Helene Stadler

Happiness reigns in the homes of Mel and Judy Golden, Fran and Len Lavien and my place as our respective mothers are visiting from different cities back East. Mel Golden's Ma from Boston, Fran's Ma from Rhode Island and mine from good old New York City.

At Temple Beth Shalom, Hebrew School begins again Tues., Jan. 2 and Sunday School, Jan. 7, 1973. Adult Education classes resume Wed., Jan. 3, 1973.

After much hard work, Reva Swartz, originator of Weight Watcher Program here in Las Vegas, is beginning to make some financial progress. She is now residing in her lovely new home and getting ready for the marriage of her daughter Andrea Werner to Dennis Cooper. Other daughter Tina will be returning from Israel, where she teaches in a kibbutz, to attend the marriage of her sister and to be with her mother.

Well, the holiday season is here and parties will be held by many. If you are not invited, and are told, "Oh, I forgot your name, please forgive me." Smile and say, "Thank you." But remember if you had the okay and were well-known in town, you would not have been forgotten. On that I could bet. So please do not feel badly and charge it up to their being what they really are. Certainly not your friend.

Gordon Saiger is doing well in photography. He is the son of Mort and Reba, long-time residents in Las Vegas. By the way, a Mazel Tov to his parents, as well as Joe and Tuby Skurow, as they are grandparents of a boychild for the second time. Parents Debbie and Mike Skuro.

Aside to Althea Thomas: Thank you so much for those kind words you extended to me in the "letters To The Editor" column. You are much too generous with your praise, but I try to do the best I can. I do have to admit, though, that I haven't quite been way up there, due to my disposition. With a Christmas wish all year to you, may this year be the best ever, for you and yours with good health prevailing at all times. Thank you for remembering me, so very thoughtful of you.

Hi Saggitarians, Happy Birthday and continue to be just what our sign is, gay, happy, and not hypocritical. Senior Citizens Kindle the Shabbat Candles

A five hundred per cent increase in employment of Senior Citizens was accomplished in the month of November.

Two hundred and twenty-four Senior Citizens have been placed on jobs since July.

Senior Citizens Employment Service has in the first five months of this fiscal year placed more Senior Citizens on jobs than its estimated job placement total for an entire year.

Jack Fagg, Administrator of Senior Citizens Employment Service, in making this announcement stated that the remarkable success of this small Agency in developing and providing jobs exclusively for Senior Citizens is due to the enthusiastic efforts of a small but highly dedicated staff.

The explosive demands for service has finger, Mae Blecker, Sally Gordon, Ethel Brown, Harriet Margolies, Marilyn Resnick, Mathew Adam Skurow, Moe Dalitz, Carole Goldstein, Herman Adler, Marcy Kean, Rae Goodman, Selma Jacobson, and many more of you whom I do not know about. Our town is growing so rapidly it is almost impossible to keep up with everything that goes on in peppy Las Vegas. Hope all of you coming to Las Vegas realize their dream.

Two very wonderful grandmothers, Jessie Ritchie and Clara Coskey, both so young looking. May their joys be many.

To all couples celebrating a December anniversary, drink, be merry and many more happy years together. produced more than five times the estimated volume of business this small staff and office were designed to accommodate and is something we are all proud of.

The present staff consists of only two full-time employees, supplemented by two part-time women, and one part-time man, working out of a small office located at 820 Las Vegas Blvd. South.

All of us know that it is almost impossible for a person fifty-five years or older to obtain gainful employment without the help of a strong advocate working in his behalf. This is the purcille and Lou Mack, Sara and Bernard Saltzman, Mort and Roz Galane, Helen and Paul Meltzner, Mickey and Muriel Kulwin, Lily and Max Phillips, Evelyn and Arthur Blum, Estelle and Frank Ballor.

A belated Chanukah wish and a very wonderful, healthy, Happy New Year to all.
