compound. Israeli Ambassador to Thailand Rehavam Amir was absent attending the investitude of Thailand's Crown Prince.

The seizure of the Bangkok Embassy has already sparked bitter criticism here of the Foreign Ministry and Israel's security services. Political observers said the terrorists selected the Bangkok Embassy as their target to try to upset the improving relations between Israel and several Southeast Asian nations which have traditionally avoided involvement in the Middle East

(In Washington, the State Department disclaimed any direct involvement in efforts to secure the hostages' release. )
