Relatives and friends from both coasts joined the elite of Las Vegas in attendance at the marriage of Linda Zabinofsky to Kenneth Schnitzer, last Sunday at Temple Beth Sholom.

Cantor Joseph Kohn, who celebrated his 22nd wedding anniversary that day with Mrs. Kohn, performed the ceremony in the flower-bedecked synagogue.

Among the bridesmaids and maid of honor were three schoolteachers, who flew in from Brooklyn, N. Y. that afternoon. Linda taught school in New York City until about six months ago, when she established permanent residence in Las Vegas. She was awarded her Master's degree from Brooklyn College, N. Y. within the past month. She expects to join the Clark County School System in the near future.

Kenny attended U.N.L.V. and is currently a dealer at the Riviera.

Junior bridesmaid was Bonnie Tell, whose sister, Michele, 5, did the flower girl chores with dignity and pomp for most of that long aisle to the pulpit. She ran the last few feet to the arms of her mother and dad, Rita and Don, seated in the first row. Rita, our darling daughter-in-law, is cousin of the bride. Rita's mother, a radiant Mrs. Bessie Friedman, was matchmaker for this delightful union, which is as good a reason as any for Rita's dad, Morris, to be the hit of the dinner party that followed in the Social Hall. He danced every number with a different partner.

The parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zabinofsky, and the mother of the groom, Mrs. Louis Schnitzer, exuberated pleasure with nearly every step in this momentous occasion for their children. For a fleeting instant, at the moment her son crushed the glass with his heel, Mrs. Schnitzer appeared to sob, apparently reflecting the absence of her late husband, a very popular man in Las Vegas. She quickly recovered her composure and retained her role as the perfect hostess.

Kenny's brother, Gary, was best man, and a joy to all the dolls at the singles' table, where our youngest son, Mike, turned on his charm for the out-of-town girlie visitors.

Back at the young marrieds' table, our middle son, Jay, and his beautiful wife, Alice, who drove in from California for the occasion, drank, ate, danced and were merry, while their 2-year-old Robyn, our delectable granddaughter, was in our home in the care of a baby sitter.

We, and Mrs. Tell had the pleasure of the company and conversation at the same table with Lee Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Fink.

Among the other invited guests were beautiful women and distinguished gentlemen, including: Sadie Abend, Sarah Abend, Mr. G. Schnitzer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bommarito, Mr. T. Bommarito, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Bromberg, Mr. Lawrence Brown, Miss Rose Callendo, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Cardarelli, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Carra, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Constable, Mrs. Mildred Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Coreman, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Corman, Mr. Glenn Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dresser, Mrs. Ellene Dworkin, Charles Els-
