

JEWISH NEWS BRIEFS

BOSTON (WNS) -- The Massachusetts Board of Rabbis has called on President Nixon to grant amnesty to Americans who are imprisoned or living abroad because they refused to serve in the armed forces during the Vietnam war.

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Yaacov Tsur, Jewish National Fund president and a former ambassador to France, appeared to be the leading Presidential candidate as the Labor Party started the process of selecting President Zalman Shazar's successor, to be elected by the Knesset May 25.

NEW YORK -- Youth Committee for Peace and Democracy in the Middle East announced the launching of a major effort to combat a "rising tide of left-wing anti-semitism on America's campuses."

TEL AVIV -- Through the introduction of modern equipment and new teaching methods in Israeli schools, Shema, a voluntary Israel parents association supported by Malben, the Joint Distribution Committee program in Israel, is helping scores of deaf and hard-of-hearing school children get a better education, Dr. Yehoshua Mazur, Chairman of the organization, declared.

PHILADELPHIA -- To mark the 30th anniversary of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising which will be marked during the month of April, The Macmillan Company will issue a paperback edition of "Scroll of Agony" by Dr. Abraham I. Katsh, president of Dropsie University.

NEW YORK -- Israeli and Swiss scientists at Bar-Ilan University, Ramat Gan, Israel, have succeeded in taking the first photographs ever made of the messenger RNA, the tiny molecular structure which tells animal cells what to do and when.

CLEVELAND HEIGHTS, O. -- Max M. Fisher, chairman of the Jewish Agency's board of governors, made a two-pronged appeal for increased American Jewish support of general education in Israel and Jewish education in the United States.

JERUSALEM -- After seven month's work, during the last academic year, the Descriptive Study on Foreign Words Used in Hebrew Today has been completed and published by The David Yellin Hebrew Teachers College, under the guidance of Dr. Reuben Sivan, noted linguist and Hebrew language teacher at the College.

KENNEDY: ISRAEL MILITARY AID

MIAMI (WNS) -- The United States must provide the military support necessary for Israel's defense "to persuade both the Soviet Union and the Arab countries that our commitment to Israel's freedom is not negotiable," Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D. Mass.) told the Israel Bond Organization national trustees dinner here.

Kennedy attacked the exit tax on educated Jews seeking to leave the USSR and urged all Americans to join in calling for its abolishment.

Regarding peace in the Middle East, Kennedy said he hoped the USSR would follow up its removal of military forces from Egypt with pressure for direct negotiations between Israel and the Arabs.

The dinner marked Israel's 25th anniversary and the first phase of the International Inaugural Conference for the 1973 Israel Bonds campaign to raise $360 million for the economic development of Israel.
