

PEACE THROUGH DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- Israel would be grateful if the United States could convince the Arab states that the way to peace in the Middle East was direct negotiations, Premier Golda Meir said in a farewell speech to 160 Jewish leaders from the U. S. and Canada who attended the Israel Bonds Conference convened by the Prime Minister.

Earlier, Simha Dinitz, Ambassador-designate to Washington said for the first time in 25 years, Israel stands at the threshold of peace, because the Arabs "think they have something to gain from peace."

The Conference adopted a $360 million goal for 1973, slightly less than two-thirds of Israel's $600 million development budget and slightly under the amount asked for,

IRAQI DENIAL ON JEWS DISCOUNTED

UNITED NATIONS (WNS) -- The Israeli Mission has rejected as "transparent and primitive lies" a denial by the Iraqi UN Mission that some Iraqi Jews have been imprisoned or executed.

The Iraqi statement attributed the reported executions to "the Zionist propagandist machine" which it said was circulating "falsehood and fabrication in an attempt to discredit the government of Iraq." The statement, the first denial by an official source, claimed that a "thorough investigation has revealed" that most of the Iraqi Jews reported imprisoned or executed while in prison "had in fact illegally departed from Iraq," and that "unofficial reports" indicated that some have been seen in the U. S. The Israeli Mission called the statement "sheer mockery."

Even while this denial was being circulated reports arrived from Jerusalem that two more Iraqi Jews have disappeared and that the Israel Student Union feared for their lives. They were identified as Naji and Surad Kashboush.

NEW YORK (USMA) -- An American delegation of a hundred and fifty Jewish boys and girls between 14-18, will participate in the First Annual Maccabi World Youth Jamboree (Keness) to be held from July 6-28, 1973 in Tel Aviv, Israel, it was announced by Sidney D. Young, president of the United States Maccabi Assn.
