

1948 • Hadassah's Israel Anniversary Album • 1973

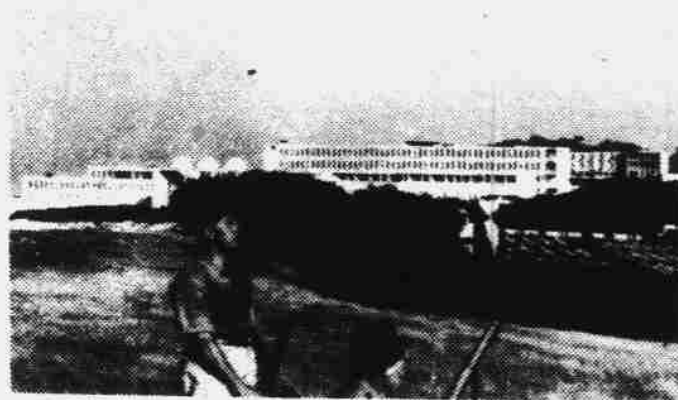

1948 - June 6. Operation Moving Day! Scattered throughout Jerusalem since 1948, Hadassah moves to new Medical Center at Lin Karem. Medical care continues even as Army pitches in and moves patients, personnel and supplies.

1970. Dr. Y.A. Rabia is first Bedouin graduate of Medical School. Hadassah serves all races and creeds as patients and students in the medical and paramedical disciplines; also, provides medical aid to Afro-Asian countries.

1972. Dr. M. Yermish, from Philadelphia, introduces American dental equipment and methods to Russian. Hadassah has absorption program for Russian olim and their families.

1948. Mount Scopus: Hadassah Hospital and Nursing School are guarded by Haganah before Independence.

1964. New Seligsberg School opens. Vocational training broadens for more sophisticated career orientation.

1970. Hadassah opens Israel's first 2-year Community College, and merges girls' and boys' high schools to create co-educational, comprehensive high school. College student, above, came from Russia. Hadassah Vocational Guidance Institute provides educational and vocational testing and counselling.

1949. Despite loss of Scopus, Hebrew University-Hadassah Medical School, first in Israel, opens in temporary quarters. U.S. Ambassador James McDonald addresses dedication. Premier Ben Gurion is seated behind him.

1973. Hadassah is U.S. agent for distribution of American "Food for Freedom" to schools and institutions in Israel.

1973. To help deprived urban youth, Hadassah is opening many Youth Aliyah all-day centers in densely populated areas.

PHOTOS AVAILABLE ON REQUEST

Hadassah 65 East 52nd Street, New York, N.Y. 10022