BY STEVE HERMAN

The first session of Kinder Kamp and Camp Shalom has ended. The first session went over very well.

The second session has started and is off to a great start. We have added three new groups to the camp. The first major camp project of the second session is our aluminum can ecology project. The campers have been asked to bring all of the aluminum cans from their house. Prizes will be awarded to the groups bringing in the most cans. Bob Healy, our environmental specialist is in charge of the project.

Some of the activities that were done by some of the groups in first session were, campouts, field trips to the dairy, trips to museums, fossil hunts, and many other field trips to places of interest too numerous to list here. Camp Masada ended up by going to the Shakespearean Festival in Utah.

Camp Masada is not being continued this session, although it was a success.
