

ENTERTAINMENT TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

DICK MCINNES

LAURENCE HARVEY arrived with several bottles of his favorite wine to share with the celebs at the screening of "Night Watch" (see Review later) his second picture with ELIZABETH TAYLOR (you do remember "Butterfield 8", don't you?). When asked afterwards if it were indeed him in the nude shower scene, the candid Mr. Harvey replied, "Of course not. I don't have any hair on my behind." Among those taking his word for it and rushing to have a drink of wine and a bit of cheese after the harrowing final moments of the flick were JACK & VICKIE OAKIE, RICHARD THOMAS & SIAN BARBARA ALLEN, ANN MILLER & HENRY BERGER, SUSAN STAFFORD & BEN MURPHY, RAY STRICKLYN, DAVID GALLIGAN & JEAN NIDETCH, JACK WESTON & MARGE REDMOND, DOROTHY MCGUIRE & JOHN SWOPE, RICK & SHARI CROCKETT, my sister JUDY MCINNES, PAT & FRANK LIBERMAN and GEORGE MARIAS (fully clothed, I might add).

DINAH SHORE, not to be outdone by sweetie BURT REYNOLDS' all femme special has been set to hostess the "What Every Woman Should Know About the Ideal Man" special with an all-male cast. Her gents haven't been set yet but Burt did his thing last Sunday and Monday with such lovelies as DELLA REESE, CAROL BURNETT, JOYCE VAN PATTEN, BERNADETTE PETERS, NANCY DUSSAULT, JO ANN PFLUG, NANETTE FABRAY, JAYE P. MORGAN and rumors have it, MAE WEST. OK, Dinah, let's see what your ideal men are going to be like?

Paramount Prexy FRANK YABLANS is being honored as B'nai B'rith's Man of the Year at a super banquet on September 9 at the Beverly Hilton. JACK LEMMON is the west coast co-chairman with BERNARD MYERSON representing the east coast. The honorary committee consists of such as KIRK DOUGLAS, SHIRLEY MacLAINE, GREGORY PECK, CHARLTON HESTON, BOB HOPE, ADOLPH ZUKOR, SENATOR ALAN CRANSTON, EDMUND G. BROWN, JR. and MIKE FRANKOVICH. Sounds like it's going to be a starry night in September!

"An Experiment in Film" and "The Dance Conglomerate" played two performances at the Vine Street School in Hollywood and received standing ovations for their work. The Super 8 film was truly an experiment which tried such oldies as Dracula and such newies as "The Dancing Princesses". The dance group performed such innovations as "Textures in Space", "Contrasts in Space" and a group effort entitled "Wonderfully Weird". What made this so exciting a trip was that the entire production was staged and even photographed by 1st and 2nd graders. There were teachers supervising but the children actually did the work. I thought it was marvelous but then I guess I'm a bit prejudiced, my 7 year-old LAUREN was one of the dancers.

"NIGHT WATCH" ELIZABETH TAYLOR returns to the ranks of the acting world with an exciting performance in this better than average thriller. It gets off to an interminably slow start but I must say that when they decide to goose it up, they do a most admirable job. It's the kind of movie that you don't want to say too much about, but suffice to say it has the usual thriller ingredients; a rainy London night; an empty, eerie house; a maybe cheating husband; a best friend that may not be, etc. But with director BRIAN HUTTON doing the cooking, it becomes rather interesting. LARRY HARVEY is excellent as the husband and BILLIE WHITE-LAW scores again as the best friend. If you get frightened easily, stay at home.

PEACE TALK ONLY WITH ARABS

JERUSALEM (WNS) -- It is the Arab states which must be partners with Israel in any Middle East peace-making efforts since they have been in a state of belligerency with Israel since 1948, a Foreign Ministry spokesman declared.

He was commenting on remarks by Algerian Foreign Minister Abdelaziz Bouteflika, who said in Paris, that direct negotiations between Israel and the Palestinians were "possible."

The Israeli spokesman said that prominent Palestinians living inside Israel's borders have pointed out in discomats since 1967 that any settlement required the participation of the Arab states.

We'd like nothing better than to supply you all the electricity you need . . .

It's our business to provide Southern Nevada with power, and we have made investments totaling many millions of dollars to make certain that you have enough . . . for now and for the future. We hesitate to alarm you, but it is entirely possible that if our nation's energy crisis continues to worsen, we may not be able to meet all of your power demands. We have the facilities and our employees work hard to keep them operating . . . but if we cannot get fuel, we cannot supply power. We're doing everything we can to prevent a power shortage, but we need your assistance, too. You can help both at home, at your office or place of business, if you will use your electrical equipment only when actually required and turn it off when not needed.
