Rosh Hashanah Message

BY MORTON L. MANDEL
(Pres., Nat., Jewish Welfare Bd.)

THE SPIRIT OF THE HIGH HOLY DAYS is one of the most wholesome aspects of our Jewish heritage. It is at this time that we are most keenly aware of our responsibilities to serve others and to help improve the quality of life. Among the top priority concerns of the American Jewish community at the beginning of the Jewish New Year 5734 are the strengthening of Jewish family life, helping Jewish aged to lead useful lives, helping Jewish youth in their quest for meaningful life-styles, and enhancing the quality of Jewish life.

American Jewry steadily is moving toward closer ties with Jews in Israel, Europe, Latin America and South Africa, and building meaningful relationships that will help to serve the social needs of Jews the world over.

The civilian community through JWB must continue to bring Judaism and Jewish associations to increasing numbers of Jewish families in the armed forces and hospitalized veterans. Jewish Community Centers have proven particularly effective in mobilizing various elements of the Jewish community and in responding to priority needs. As the national association of Jewish Community Centers and YM-YWHAs, JWB cooperates with other national Jewish service bodies in aiding local communities to become ever more effective in meeting the needs of their constituents.

To move closer to our goals, we need the support of our communities and the continuing participation of community leaders. This could be a formula for making the year 5734 "a good year for all."
