GOLDA : 'NO US PRESSURE ON ISRAEL' BOTH COUNTRIES UNITED FOR PEACE

SYRIANS MURDERED ISRAELI POWs

TEL AVIV (WNS) -- Reports were issued here and abroad that evidence has been found that Syrians murdered Israeli prisoners of war they captured at the beginning of the Yom Kippur War.

An Israeli Ordinance Corps crew, salvaging captured tanks near Khoussaniyeh during the first week of the war, reported the discovery of the bodies of 12 soldiers buried beneath a pile of stones covered with branches and weeds. The bodies were tied hand and foot indicating that they were murdered after being taken prisoner.

In Paris, Pierre de Benouville, president of the "France-Israel Parliamentary Committee and a member of the Parliamentary majority, told a press conference after his return from Israel that he saw 68 Israeli soldiers on the Golan Heights with "their throats cut like animals in a slaughter house." Both de Benouville and Roger Chinaud, another Deputy who also just returned from Israel, asserted that it was a war of destruction against the Jewish state.

Meanwhile Defense Minister Moshe Dayan charged that the Egyptian and Syrian governments are using Israel's concern for its POWs as a means of pressure. He said deals had been made with Egypt for the exchange of wounded POWs, but each time Egypt returned to its demand for an Israeli withdrawal to the Oct. 22 ceasefire line before the exchange could take place.

TUESDAY NIGHT FLASH

New York City has elected the first Jewish Mayor in its history, Abraham Beame.

WASHINGTON (WNS) -- In the wake of reports here and in Jerusalem that the U. S. is pressuring Israel for concessions, Israeli Premier Golda Meir flew to Washington for clarifications.

After holding a breakfast meeting with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger followed by an 80-minute meeting in the White House with President Nixon and Dr. Kissinger, Mrs. Meir denied that there was any U.S. pressure on Israel.

However, before leaving Jerusalem it was reported that the Premier wanted to see where U.S. pressure, which was not yet intense, was leading to; to learn what issues the U.S. would rather press Israel than confront the Soviet Union and to what extent Israel can look to American support in the diplomatic struggle ahead.

In Washington, Mrs. Meir told a press conference that the U.S. and Israel were united in their desire to preserve the ceasefire and to achieve a settlement in the region. She said she and Nixon discussed the Oct. 22 cease-fire lines but no one really knew where they existed.

Mrs. Meir also held a breakfast meeting with 14 Senators. She expressed serious concern about the feeling of Israeli soldiers over the supplying of the encircled Egyptian Third Army while Egypt has failed to agree to an exchange of prisoners. Mrs. Meir said she was informed that the first shipments of supplies to the Third Army included candy and cigarettes for Egyptian officers instead of the water and

Keep Nixon in Office

We do not believe President Nixon should resign.

The changing of horses in mid-stream would leave hanging, too many problems that require immediate determination.

We do not advocate impeachment.

This would necessitate an ordeal through the both houses of Congress, which could take months, possibly years. Meanwhile there would have to be a distraction, wholly or in large part to the business of government.

That is why the LAS VEGAS ISRAELITE, which headlined a victory for McGovern, that inflation would beat Nixon, now asks the people of America to refrain from hasty decisions and retain Nixon as President.

There are many and diverse reasons for our view, but the one most apparent, the one that stands high and above everything else, is that it is best for our country, the United States of America. It is a matter of perspective.

It is not that Nixon is scot-free of Watergate implications, or blameless for those links he appointed to high office in his administration. He sure as hell got us into a pretty good mess.

Our only concern is where do we go from here? What is best for most of us?

For one thing, a Watergate will never again be committed under Nixon and he's run out of crooks in Washington for any future asinine appointments.

It reminds us of the candidate for County Road Supervisor telling an audience about the paved road leading to the incumbent's house. "Why should we vote for you," said a voice in the crowd, "he's already got his road."

We do not believe anything further from Nixon as Chief Executive will be less than superlative. There are many U.S. Citizens who have retained full faith in Nixon, who, after all, maintains innocence with direct involvement of crimes in his behalf.

That, we point out to readers, is the difference between the circumstances that surrounded former Vice President Agnew and Nixon's present predicament. Agnew is an admitted crook.

We bring up this issue because there is scuttlebut that Nixon is going to embark on a campaign to renew people's confidence in him. If he does, we offer our President one simple piece of advice. Do not attempt to convince America that you are lily-pure, even if you are.

The most disgusting part of Agnew's plight
