

Hadassah Mourns Ben Gurion

NEW YORK...."David Ben Gurion had the heart of a lion and responded to the extraordinary needs of the time with the character of a Prophet," Rose E. Matzkin, national president of Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America, said on the death of Israel's first prime minister who was an architect of the State.

Mrs. Matzkin continued: "This generation shall ever be honored for having known David Ben Gurion. We, at Hadassah, as pioneers in LAS VEGAS ISRAELITE Palestine have worked side by side with this magnificent leader.

"After access to our Medical Center on Mount Scopus in Jerusalem was cut off by Jordan in the 1948 War of Independence, it was Ben Gurion who proposed the site for the new Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center in Ein Karem, in Western Jerusalem. When we protested that it was too far from the center of the city he assured us that 'Jerusalem will grow out to Hadassah,' and, of course, his vision was right."

She continued, "While Ben Gurion had the vision and the character of a prophet, he also combined a scholarly and a very human nature. He was a warm -- not an austere -- man, and he loved young people. I speak for our 325,000 members who join the people of Israel and people everywhere in mourning this great leader."

Prophet and Patriot

by RABBI ARTHUR HERTZBERG
(Pres. American Jewish Congress)

David Ben Gurion will live forever in Jewish history as the architect of the State of Israel. Prophet and patriot, historian and hero, he took the eternal dream of the Jewish people--the return to Zion--and devoted to it all the strength, energy and determination with which he was blessed.

His monument is the free and democratic State of Israel. His heirs are the children of the kibbutzim, the men and women of the citizens' army that has fought five times within the past quarter-century to defend the nation's borders, the students in schools and universities, the scientists and lawmakers, artists and writers--all of the people of Israel who are enriching Judaism's contribution to civilization.

Jews the world over will mourn him, as will men and women of every nation, creed and color who saw in David Ben Gurion both a servant of his particular people and one who strove mightily for the universal values of justice, human dignity and peace.
