

Only in Vegas

By
Helene Stadler

Pat Ginn, of Pat's Chinese Kitchen, has taken it upon himself to generously supply meals on wheels to the sickly and indigent, on Saturdays, since the regularly federally funded meals on wheels are delivered only Monday through Friday.

I am sure all of Las Vegas would like to know of his thoughtfulness and generosity.

Thank you,
A Senior In Action.

(ED NOTE: Nothing makes us prouder than to hear kind words, unsolicited, about Pat Ginn, whose family and the Tells are as one. J.T.)

Only Harold Winterman could design a barber salon like the one he runs at M.G.M. Grand Hotel. Each hair styling is private and among the barbers are Kay Penny, formerly at the Hilton, and Jo Anna Wesley, the first Black hair stylist on the Strip. Then there's Eileen Hall, who came over from Caesars, along with Gina Merluzzi, who spent 15 years at New York's St. Regis Hotel, both manicurists. Last but not least is Mrs. Harold (Hedy) Winterman, receptionist and coffee hostess. Quite an array, all fitting the splendor of the $100,000,000 M.G.M. Grand.

Ed Lavietes, who supplies music for all occasions, large and small, has earned the reputation after 20 years in this town of keeping guests toe-tapping whether its with a trio at a bar mitzvah or a 12-piece orchestra at a convention. Call him for your next affair.
