

TELL TALES

"There is one man who can still hold his head high and proclaim he has applied the law of the land to all men equally without fear or favor."

Or Heaton's reaction when called "the one sure honest man in the State of Nevada," by a confessed sinner, who admitted erring and prostituting his newspaper. What we'd say is, "Stay off my side."

Now does Heaton need any sly reminders, from the likes of Greenspun, that he has an additional six months to frame a pleading... or could the publisher be threatening the U.S. Attorney to be sure to reopen the case, or else?

Now to show you the abnormal, frantic rage being portrayed by a newspaper publisher, and the wanton extremity to which he will stray from the subject on hand, get a load of this senseless delusion. Greenspun's latest insult to the intelligence of readers, said:

"History will record that there would not have been a 'Watergate' if Howard Hughes had not attempted to coerce and corrupt the national administration."

And finally, there is talk of Greenspun running for U. S. Senator. If so, we will vote and campaign for him. Anything to get him out of Nevada.

For Middle Aged

by RABBI SAMUEL SILVER

Remember that writer, Anonymous? He produced a prayer for the Middle-aged which is a gem.

I'm going to reprint it here for your benefit but, first, as the commercials say, let me tell you where I found it.

I found it in one of the most exciting books I have ever read: "Quotations of Courage and Vision," by that Dr. Carl Herman Voss, who wrote that excellent biography of Rabbi Stephen Wise.

The book is like a series of spiritual vitamins pills. Dr. Voss has assembled most fascinating statements from Jewish and non-Jewish sources. What a book to give as a gift or to have at your bedside. A delight.

Well, here is the prayer for the Middle-aged from the Voss volume:

"Lord, Thou knowest better than I know myself that I am growing older and will some day be old. Keep me from the fatal habit of thinking I must say something on every subject and on every occasion. Release me from craving to straighten our everybody's affairs. Make me thoughtful but not moody; helpful but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom, it seems a pity not to use it all, but Thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.

"Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details; give me wings to get to the point. Seal my lips on my aches and pains. They are increasing, and love of rehearsing them is becoming sweeter as the years go by. I dare not ask grace enough to enjoy the tales of others' pains, but help me to endure them with patience.

"Keep me reasonably sweet. I do not want to be a Saint -- some of them are so hard to live with--but a sour old person is one of crowning works of the devil. Give me the ability to see good things in unexpected places, and talents in unexpected people. And give me, O Lord, the grace to tell them so."

IF THERE'S A HILL IN YOUR BILL,
THE SEASON'S THE REASON!

If your electric bill has been high this past month, it's because you have used more power for heating. It's been that kind of a month . . . requiring a lot of heat . . . day and night. We know it's upsetting, to receive a high bill at a time when everyone's doing his best to conserve . . . but the weather's one thing we cannot control. Even with the recent rate increase authorized by the Public Service Commission, Nevada Power still brings you electric service at one of the lowest residential rates in the nation. We hope to continue to deliver all you need . . . and hope that you will continue to conserve, as much as possible.
