

Passover Message

* From Paul Zuckerman
(Gen. Chairman, U.J.A.)

"Why is this night of Passover different from all other Passover nights? On all other Seder nights we recall the deliverance of the past. Tonight, following the Yom Kippur War, we express our faith in the future by asking:

What more can we do as individuals and as a family to insure the survival of our people in Israel and of Jews everywhere?" This is the Fifth Question we ask this Passover. For, despite the destruction, loss of life and personal tragedy, the people of Israel continue to keep the doors of freedom open... continue to provide a haven for those fleeing oppression. But, it is we who must provide the essential services for all newcomers, to enhance their quality of life, so that they may become self-sufficient, productive members of Israeli society.

The level and quality of response from the American Jewish community since the Yom Kippur War has been unlike any other experience in the history of Jewish life in this country. It is a tribute to our maturity and understanding...a graphic demonstration of our oneness with the people of Israel. And now, we must take that maturity and understanding and redouble our efforts.....to bring our response to new heights....to sustain increases in overall giving to meet the overwhelming human need that exists.

On all other nights, our thoughts and concerns are for each other. This Passover, our hearts and prayers are with Jewish people everywhere, especially in Israel. Let us resolve to give as we have never given before, and observe this year's celebration of freedom with a dramatic outpouring of love and concern for our brothers in Israel.
