

RABBIS URGED TO SHAPE US FUTURE

KIAMESHA LATE, N. Y. (WNS)--Rabbi Mordechai Waxman, newly elected president of the Rabbinical Assembly, urged his fellow rabbis to be "shapers of tomorrow."

In a statement following his installation at the RA's 74th annual convention, he stressed that since this is a stormy time for the American people and a hazardous one for Jews, it is the "prime duty" of rabbis "to remind our fellow Jews and our fellow Americans that values learned over the ages which must be maintained as the enduring girders of any social structure.

"The 1100 delegates to the convention referred to the RA's Committee on Jewish Law and Standards further action on the recommendation by Rabbi Judah Nadich, the RA's outgoing president, that the rabbinical organization of Conservative Judaism accept women for ordination.

LONDON (WNS) -- Prime Minister Winston Churchill pressed for a rapid solution of the Palestinian problem through partition before the end of World War II but was opposed by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, according to the secret Cabinet papers for 1943-45 which have just been released.

LONDON (WNS) -- Protests have been mounting against the plans by the Polish government to demolish the last standing section of the Warsaw Ghetto wall.
