

JOE CRAWFORD FOR DISTRICT ATTY.

Making an initial bid for public office, Las Vegas attorney Joseph Crawford has filed his candidacy for District Attorney of Clark County.

JOSEPH

Well known locally, Crawford, 52, has an extensive legal and law enforcement background outside Nevada including:

- U.S. Treasury agent in Chicago assigned to narcotics, alcohol and tobacco tax violations;
- Internal Revenue Service tax attorney, also in Chicago;
- Assistant Illinois State Attorney General;
- Assistant U.S. Attorney for the northern district of Illinois, including Chicago.

A 10-year resident of Las Vegas, Crawford also piled up an impressive record as a trial attorney here while serving as a deputy district attorney and deputy city attorney.

Born in Winnemucca, Nev., Crawford was a tail-gunner in World War II. He took his law degree at the University of Mississippi, then moved to Chicago. He and his wife, Judy, have four children.

As a platform statement of his beliefs to be pursued if he was district attorney of Clark County, Crawford said:

"All criminal cases should be carefully screened to prevent further log-jamming of the courts and to save untold taxpayers dollars through the continual filing of weak cases.

"I firmly believe, although the Supreme Court of the United States has approved it, that plea bargaining has been overused in avoiding proper disposition of cases and that it should be used with discretion and only in matters which are absolutely essential.

"A district attorney should not be afraid to take a strong stand in recommending stiff sentences in appropriate cases.

"Consumer fraud in an area of the law which also needs strict enforcement.

"A district attorney should keep an open door for communications with the public and to any special interest groups. If elected, and within the budget, I would have someone available to talk to the people 24 hours a day."

Crawford is a member of the Nevada Bar Association, Clark County Bar Association and American Bar Association. He is also a member of the International Footprinters Association in Las Vegas, Nevada Constables Association, Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion.

CATHY POST FIELD FOR JUSTICE OF PEACE

Cathy Post Field, candidate for Las Vegas justice - of-the-peace, has been returning campaign contributions, all of which were unsolicited. In doing this, Mrs. Field would like her backers to know that while she is very grateful for their support, she is not accepting any financial assistance during the primary.

CATHY P. FIELD

"My reason for this," Mrs. Field explained, "is that I threw my hat into the political arena for the first time because I am tired of being represented by politicians indebted to big donors. I also believe that Americans have had their fill of the current political system which favors the rich and the special interest lobbyists because these are the groups who give large campaign donations.

"I am running a low-budget campaign and going door-to-door to the voters so they may ask me personally how I stand on the issues. I am very appreciative of those volunteers who are giving me aid in this manner.

"I am not a politician but a concerned citizen seeking an office for which I know I am qualified. I am determined to prove it is possible to win in a primary without accepting pledges from the average citizens whom I intend to protect and represent. Therefore, I am using the money I saved for two years for a European vacation to stay home and fight it out on the political front. I believe in America and in my own ability. If I were not willing to invest my own money in my country and myself I would not be a suitable candidate for Las Vegas justice-of-the-peace or any other office."

Join Maya Miller.

Last October, with dozens of other distinguished Americans, Maya and Richard Miller were two of three Nevadans named to the famous "Enemies List."

Maya Miller and Dr. Richard Miller

Maya Miller wasn't surprised. "I knew I didn't agree with Nixon's policies," she said.

Since Nixon became President, the American dollar has shrunk 25%. We've had one shortage after another. And prices go only one way — up! For the first quarter of 1974, inflation was at 14.3%.

A factory worker in Henderson told Maya Miller, "You were named to the Enemies List, but as far as I'm concerned, all of us are on Nixon's Enemies List." Maya Miller agrees.
