

TONY BADILLO FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

TONY AND CINDY BADILLO WITH FAMILY

A 19-year Las Vegas resident, Tony Badillo, has filed to run for the County Commission District "D" seat held by Myron Leavitt.

Badillo, 41 of 1067 Griffith Ave., is a dealer and has been employed in the gaming industry for 18 years.

The race is Badillo's first try for public office. He is a Democrat.

The father of seven children, Badillo is a veteran of the Army and a former restaurant and curio shop owner.

"I believe we need some new blood in politics," says Badillo. "I have no conflicts of interest. I am not self-employed. I do not have any business interests. I do not own my own business nor do I have any large property holdings."

Badillo says he is running for public office, "because I want answers and progress for our many needs."

Many sectors of his election district are becoming "run down for lack of repair," he notes. "For safety reasons, I think stop signs and better lighting are needed at various locations."

Badillo has pledged to aid senior citizens and youth who he says are being ignored.

He sees a need for secure child care for working mothers.

"Our laws need to be enforced with courage and strength," Badillo adds as another thrust of his campaign.

In addition, Badillo cites a need for more consideration to victims of crimes.

"I am not a professional politician, but I intend to make progress and represent the people as they want to be represented," he said.

Other Democrats in the race are Thalia Dondero, Tom Millre, Big Bob Albright, David Miller and Marilyn Agnew. Republican Mark Gamett has also filed for the post.

MAHLON BROWN FOR JUSTICE OF PEACE

Las Vegas Justice of the Peace Mahlon Brown has filed for election to the judicial post he has held since his appointment earlier this year.

Brown, 35, pledged high bails for "narcotics profitters and those accused of wanton crimes of violence," and said he would continue his policy of greatly limiting attorney's fees for civil actions in justice court.

He also unveiled plans for changes in justice court "to allow the time needed to hear and prosecute properly all drunken driving cases."

Brown proposed setting aside Friday mornings "to hear nothing but cases involving drunken driving charges. This is the most serious of all driving offenses, and we can best crack down by setting aside adequate time and space for the proper hearing and prosecution of these cases."

He said such a procedure would do away with reasons for the lowering of drunken driving charges such as prosecutors or witnesses not being available due to overcrowded court conditions.

Brown said the justice court "must be increased in size, space and judicial staffing. He said one new judge and a traffic commissioner or another judge who would also hear traffic matters is needed now "to expedite the ever-growing caseload which is burdening the justice court.

"For example," Brown said, "there is presently only one day a week devoted to hearing small claims matters. This just doesn't allow sufficient time to hear those matters which are of such vital concern to the litigants.

Brown, son of State Senator and former Justice of the Peace B. Mahlon Brown, was appointed justice of the peace in April by the Board of Clark County Commissioners to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Rex Bell.

PETER FLANGAS FOR DIST. ATTY.

"One of the favorite election time tricks of incumbent District Attorneys, who are in trouble with the electorate, is the free use of the news media." So said Peter Flangas, Democratic Candidate for the office of District Attorney.

"Elected officials, who know they're in trouble with the electorate and are up for re-election, suddenly become very active and very visible at election time. The old ghetto saying 'The only time we see these cats is when they want something,' is certainly true," Flangas added. Incumbent District Attorneys, because of the office they hold, are news-makers; so the media is quite accessible. In the case of our incumbent District Attorney, be ready to read more and hear more about a flurry of attacks, from him, upon big companies, utilities, organizations, or individuals who are just in no position to defend themselves immediately. It'll happen and most of it will be just to get him publicity. Free publicity, nothing else," Flangas concluded. "Don't be fooled."
