ALLON: ALL ISRAELI-ARAB DISPUTES CAN BE SOLVED BY NEGOTIATIONS

ISREAL, ARABS EVEN UP IN ARMS

WASHINGTON (WNS) -- The U. S. National Security Council has concluded after a study of the military strength of Middle Eastern countries that a balance exists between Israel and her Arab neighbors, Defense Department spokesman William Beecher told newsmen.

"We are determined to keep the balance," he said adding that sufficient arms will be provided to Israel to maintain its capability. However, the Pentagon said that "balance" in the American view was Israel's capability in relation to Egypt and Syria.

match the capability of Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and other Arab countries that might act against her.

Meanwhile in Israel, Premier Yitzhak Rabin returned from a visit to the Upper Galilee and warned that Israel viewed with the utmost gravity the renewed flow of sophisticated arms into Syria. Earlier in Kiryat Shemona Rabin warned Syrian and Egypt against using the lethal Soviet-made Scud missiles against Israeli population centers. He said if Israel was hit she would have the means to hit population centers in Syria and Egypt, although he did not disclose what these means are.

UNITED NATIONS (WNS) -- Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon told the General Assembly that there is no problem in the Arab-Israeli dispute, "including the question of the independent identity of the Palestinians, which cannot be solved by sincere negotiations between the parties."

He asserted that none of the problems "can be solved by war."

Allon, who is also Israel's Deputy Premier, spoke in Hebrew, the first time the General Assembly has been addressed in that language. Making his first appearance before the UN body, Allon made it clear that if conditions are not yet ripe "for a final peace settlement Israel is prepared to examine the possibilities of reaching interim agreements ... providing for effective mutual security arrangements that, in the course of time will lead to negotiations for a peace treaty which will determine, inter alia, the final borders."

Allon said Israel recognizes the existence of "the question of a Palestinian identity" but believes it can be solved in the context of a settlement with Jordan since the great majority of Palestinians live on both sides of the Jordan River and most Palestinians hold Jordanian citizenship. He declared that "The Palestine community in general must in no way be equated with the terror organizations."

He described the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) as "not a national liberation movement but the roof organization of disunited and splintered terrorist groups whose pretensions and support do not spring from the broad masses of the Palestinian people." Conceding that the General Assembly may grant the PLO official recognition, he said Israel

FOREIGN MINISTER PRAISES KISSINGER

NEW YORK (WNS) -- Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon strongly defended Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Israeli Ambassador Simcha Dinitz before a packed audience of young American Jewish leaders at the Israeli Consulate here.

Responding to questions, Allon said no one was "more instrumental than the American Secretary of State" in ensuring U. S. political and economic support of Israel during and since the Yom Kippur War. He declared that there is "no American pressure, at least for the time being" on Israel.

With Israeli Ambassador Simcha Dinitz sitting at his side, Allon praised the envoy as a "very able emissary in Washington" who "is doing a very good job." The Foreign Minister's remarks were aimed at criticism in the Israeli press that Dinitz was easily led by Kissinger.

Later in Jerusalem, Premier Yitzhak Rabin issued a denial to reports that he was planning to replace Dinitz. "The Ambassador enjoys the full confidence of the Prime Minister and is carrying out his task with efficiency, loyalty and devotion."

SHIRLEY
A NEW WAY TO SAY GOVERNOR

What is a lovely lady like Shirley Crumpler doing in the hard-nose, two-timing, double-crossing game of politics?

Here we are, barely three weeks away from the general election on November 5, and the best kept secret of any campaign anywhere is the background, the policies, the platform and especially the name and distinguishing attributes of the G.O.P. candidate for the highest office in our state. And it is not because of lack of effort and determination on the part of Shirley and her loyal immediate family who are sacrificing all their money and time in her behalf.

It is because the leaders of the Republican Party in Nevada, who urged Mrs. Crumpler to file for the post, so far, sadly are neglecting to support her nomination. It was they who needed someone to face Governor Mike O'Callaghan in the election. It was the state and county chairmen, along with committee heads who pleaded with Mrs. Crumpler to accept the assignment in order to have proper representation on the ballot.

They knew at the outset that Governor Mike was an odds-on favorite. But so was Ed Fike,
