

PRESSURE ON ISRAEL TO SURRENDER LAND

WASHINGTON (WNS) -- Western industrial nations will put severe pressure on Israel to give up most if not all of its conquered Arab territories to prevent a renewal of the oil boycott, according to Nathaniel Samuel, a partner in the New York banking house of Kuhn Loeb & Co., and head of two other corporations engaged in international commerce.

But, Samuel, who was Deputy Undersecretary of State for Economic Affairs in 1969-72, told newsmen that the industrial nations would draw the line if Israel's survival was at stake. He said that the "revulsion" should Israel be destroyed, would be too much for the Western nations to take.

He said that if Israel's survival was at stake the United States and Europe "would stand up for Israel and the (oil) producer countries would have overshoot their mark." Samuel said he did not see American military action if there was another Arab-Israeli war. "How that would involve other countries one can't tell," he said, adding that "some of the more far-seeing Arabs recognize the difficulty of pushing Israel too far."

He noted that the European countries are leaving the defense of Israel to the U.S.
